

A shaving service—not just another razor

Go into your favorite dealer's and examine the New Improved Gillette.

Ask him to point out the features that make this new razor not simply a beard-cutting device, but a shaving service that eliminates shaving drudgery for all time.

See for yourself why it gives such cool, clean, satisfying shaves. Compare it point for point with any other razor you have ever known.

You won't go another day without the comfort of shaving with the New Improved Gillette.

SOUTH AFRICAN MINE DECISION

Provincial Councils Not Permitted to Tax Mine Profits

Pretoria, South Africa, Nov. 4.—(Canadian Press Cable via Reuters.)—The Crown Mines Company has won an important test case in the Supreme Court here.

The Transvaal Provincial Council imposed a tax on the company of £1 per head for every person over the number of eight employed in the Crown Mines. The company contested the Council's power to do so and a test case was made of the matter. The Supreme Court has just given judgment in favor of the company, holding that the tax was invalid as the parliamentary statute removed the power to tax incomes and profits derived from mining.

EMPIRE PRODUCE FOR EXHIBITION

New South Wales Premier Speaks in Connection With Empire Event

Sydney, Australia, Nov. 4.—(Canadian Press Cable via Reuters.)—Sir George Fuller, Premier of New South Wales, addressing the Chamber of Commerce here on the British Empire Exhibition, said an extraordinary prejudice seemed to exist among some of the English people against Dominion products. Sir George instanced the controversy over the exclusive use of Empire produce in connection with the British Empire Exhibition and said this had put the Australian producers on their mettle.

The Premier said that in England, Australian butter was rated below Danish butter while the people of the United States declared it equal to the butter produced in Denmark. There was something radically wrong with Australia's trade relations with Great Britain, he said in the methods used in connection with the exhibition.

"I believe that this exhibition," Sir George said, "will do more to stabilize Empire development than any of the spasmodic efforts of the past decade have done."

TRANSFER BOOKS OF CANADIAN LOANS CLOSED

Ottawa, Nov. 4.—On account of the interest payments due December 1 next the transfer books of the 1911 Victory Loan and the 1915-25 War Loan are closed now and will remain closed till November 20, according to an announcement from the Department of Finance.

Bonds which are received at the department for transfer will not be transferred until after the opening of the transfer books December 1, it is stated.

It's a Fact!

Somebody (his name was Dave Holtzman—his age 18).

Took a $1000 Endowment Policy for which he undertook to pay

$761.25—spread over a period of 35 years

But the profits, distributed annually, so reduced his premiums that he paid only

$515.24—in actual cash

So that Dave's net results at the age of 53 were:

35 years' protection and $197.67 for each $100. he paid the Company.

PLAN MODIFICATION OF COASTWISE LAWS

Even Suspension May Follow Government Investigations

Ottawa, Nov. 4.—(Canadian Press.)—The Government is considering modification or suspension of the Canadian coasting laws, and a decision in regard to the matter may be expected shortly.

Before his departure for Australia, Hon. James A. Robb, Minister of Trade and Commerce, told a number of representatives of Great Lake shipping interests that unless the rate on grain from Fort William to Georgian Bay ports could be reduced so as to compete with the rate from Fort William to Buffalo, the Government would have to consider modifying or suspending these laws. One effect of suspending these laws would be to permit American vessels to engage in the Canadian coasting trade with the probable result that rates on grain would fall.

Hon. Charles Stewart, acting Minister of Trade and Commerce, has been collecting further information regarding the matter and it is stated that a decision may be expected before long. The Government is aware that if action is to be taken it must be soon if lake shippers are to derive any benefit from it this year.

BRITISH ELECTION HAS LITTLE EFFECT ON STOCK MARKET

London, Nov. 4.—(Canadian Press Cable.)—The stock exchange continues to maintain supreme indifference to the general election, probably because the event in the present circumstances means so little as a disturbance to trade. The election probably will continue to have the least possible effect on the market unless indeed the Labourites win many seats, which would certainly result in further unloading of home rails. Talk of merging the lines gave a temporary spell of activity in August, but since then the market has been in the doldrums.

In London little fear is apparent of the Labourites gaining a controlling influence in national affairs, very little insurance is being sought against such a contingency.

Underwriters were obliged to take ninety per cent. of the Indian 4½ per cent. £20,000,000 loan offered at 95 and now quoted at a discount of 1½ per cent. On the other hand the £1,000,000 debentures issued by the Pease Partners Company, a well known industrial concern, bearing 5 per cent. and quoted at 99, were instantly subscribed.

The Marconi Company is expected to offer next week £1,500,000 debentures bearing six and a half per cent. and to be sold at 99. It is understood there has been competition for the underwriting.

Other important capital issues are pending.

THREE PERSONS KILLED IN AUTO AND TRAIN SMASH

Fairfield, Ia., Nov. 4.—Three persons were killed and two were seriously injured when Chicago, Burlington and Quincy passenger train No. 1 crashed into an automobile driven by W. F. Miller, of Brighton, here last evening.

Mrs. W. F. Miller and her two-months-old daughter and L. E. Ruth, of Queen City, Mo., were killed. Mrs. Ruth and Miller were seriously injured. Mrs. Ruth is not expected to recover.

SIX INQUESTS IN MONTREAL

Death of Two Women and Four Men Reported

Montreal, Nov. 4.—Six violent deaths were reported to the Chief Coroner here yesterday.

Mrs. Pierre Cote, 69, was killed when she fell from a second story window when a railing against which she was leaning gave way.

Mayer Gauger, 63, suffered a fracture of the skull when struck by an automobile.

Ferdinand Tomasso, 55, was run over by a street car.

Lulu Strang, 38, died in a hospital from what is thought to be narcotic poisoning.

Wong Kong, a prisoner at Bordeaux jail, died of pneumonia.

Joseph Chapal, 55, died while en route to his lodgings from a hotel where he had been taken ill.

SEES LLOYD GEORGE AS PREMIER AGAIN

Conservatives' convictions and policies for generations.

A CHAMPION OF PEOPLE'S RIGHTS

Now think of Lloyd George. He has no connection with any of these three. He is not a state churchman. He is a Baptist—not just labelled as such, but one by conviction. His non-conformity is almost an aggressive thing. He has never tried to hide it. Secondly, he has never entered the precincts of a university. No college has set its seal on him. What education he gained was gained in the village school and as the pupil of a cobbler uncle. Thirdly, he has no connection with the land. No estate bears his name. He has never owned an acre. His first emergence in public life took the form of smashing a few of which someone had erected to destroy the public right of way. This sort of thing has consistently been his own relationship to land. He has been the champion of the people's rights and the jealous antagonist of the land owner and squire.

AN UNCOMFORTABLE POLITICAL UNION

Well, how are you going to mix this man with that sort of Toryism? How are you going to wed this man with Toryism and what sort of married life will it be if the contract is signed? It was a marriage of convenience and it was because they did not "fit" one another there was nothing but discomfort for the last six years. They were certainly married and became so after the Tory Party had its eye on a divorce. Lloyd George had the most uncomfortable lot of partners, and I have no doubt that their partner equally uncomfortable. That was the reason why their wedded life ended.

Democratic. Lloyd George is nothing if not democratic. Democracy is in his blood and bones. He was born in the ranks. All his sympathies are with the people. He has a great humanness. It is one of his chief gifts and explains much of his inducements. There is nothing close or reserved about him. He has little or no reserve. His doors are open or opened at a slightest tap. He is in the habit of Canadians call a good mixer. What strange companies you find at his table! Those breakfast meetings at No. 10 Downing Street! His guests are the strangest assortment, with seemingly little that was common among them, but they were always drawn into fellowship by the magnetic power of his host.

LLOYD GEORGE'S ORATORY ALIVE

Lloyd George's oratory is alive; it is vital in every fibre. He moves easily, using many and varied vehicles to express himself. His humor develops like an extraordinarily varied. They have a suddenness and spontaneity which, I think, sometimes surprise the speaker himself. What is he going to do now? One thing is certain and that is that what happened at the Carlton Club will not drive him from his influential place in British public life. He is not easily crushed and he scarcely knows the meaning of depression. My own conviction is that he will soon take the leadership of a United Labour Party and will again come into power with comrades around him congenial to his spirit, to carry out some great programme of economic and industrial reform and to promote international relationships as will promote fraternity among mankind.

Mrs. Rue Is a Cook

Mrs. Eleanor Rue likes Pacific Milk better than other canned milks she has tried and says it is quite superior to fresh milk for cooking. She says the first can of Pacific Milk she bought was when the Manufacturers Association started their campaign to increase the use of British Columbia products. She had no idea it would be any different from other canned milks. In fact she doubted if it would be good. It was quite a surprise to find it better to her taste and that it gave her cakes a superior quality. She adds Pacific Milk is the only milk now being packed in British Columbia.

TO DISCUSS NEW RAILWAY SERVICE

Sooke Harbor Development Association to Deal With C.N.R. Schedule

Special to The Times. Sooke Harbor.—The monthly meeting of the Sooke Harbor Development Association will take place at the Sooke Hall on Monday, November 13, at 8 p. m., when the question of changes in the operation of the Canadian National Railway through the district will be thoroughly gone into, in line with the recent meeting of the Metochin Farmers' Institute at the Lutton Hall. It is hoped this meeting will be largely attended by the residents of the Sooke Harbor district. The secretary, W. Miller Higgs, has been one of a special committee of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce working upon this question and will have a report to give the meeting upon the action which is being taken by that body to secure the successful operation of this newly opened section of the Island line.

Building Home.

Mr. Porter, from the Okanagan, has just re-bought two and a half acres of land close to Saseenos Station and has already commenced building his home. In conversation with The Times local representative Mr. Porter said: "I have traveled over the greater part of British Columbia, but nowhere have I come across a more level spot to make a home than the Sooke district. From the 17-mile post on the C. N. R. all along the waterfront it is difficult to imagine anything more beautiful. Though the clearing upon my land is somewhat heavy the soil is of the best and will grow anything, and when I have it cleared I certainly shall have something."

Three New Houses.

Mr. Robinson, who settled at Saseenos last Fall from the prairies, has had quite a busy season in building work. He has just completed two houses, one for Captain Robinson and one for Mr. J. Raine, and is now busy completing his own. In addition to his building work, Mr. Robinson has done quite a piece of clearing upon his own five-acre and had a nice garden in this year.

A New Resident.

A. G. Holloway, of Edmonton, has just been visiting Sooke Harbor and is so taken with the district and its possibilities as an island resort that he has decided to make his home here. Mr. Holloway is "one of the Byang Boys," having served under the present Governor-General in France, where he was severely wounded. He has taken up shoemaking as a trade and intends opening a local repair store. He has made arrangements with W. Miller Higgs, now in Victoria, to handle his local business. Quite a number of people in Edmonton are awaiting Mr. Holloway's report on this locality and he is expecting a number to come here. Mr. Holloway was especially struck by the War Memorial which stands at the Sooke Cross Roads in the centre of the village and said: "This impressive memorial is an example to many a larger place."

MEMBER TO CARE FOR SAYWARD DISTRICT IN HOUSE

(Times Correspondence.) The needs of the Sayward district will be looked after in the Provincial House this session by Rev. Thomas Menzies, member for Comox, who recently visited Sayward at the invitation of the Sayward Progressive Association, a non-political organization formed in the interests of the community. Among the matters to be taken up in the House by Mr. Menzies will be a request for the establishment of a settlement area by the Land Settlement Board in the Sayward district, where much excellent agricultural land was available. The extension of the Island Highway into the district was another matter that was brought to the attention of Mr. Menzies by the residents. The association agreed to send a representative to Victoria during the session to support the member in pressing the claims of the Sayward district.

WHIST DRIVE.

Special to The Times. Colwood.—The weekly whist drive was held at Colwood Hall on Wednesday night with the following results: Winning lady, Mrs. Murray; winning gentleman, Mr. Eng; lady's booby prize, Miss Murray; gentlemen's booby, J. S. Robinson.

MINISTER REPLIES TO HALIFAX CHARGE OF BOOTLEGGING

Ottawa, Nov. 3.—"The Province is master of the situation," declared Hon. Jacques Bureau, Minister of Customs to-day, denying charges that whiskey is being bottled in Halifax for bootlegging in the United States under protection of the Dominion Government and in defiance of the will of the people of Nova Scotia. "We have not acted in defiance of the people of Nova Scotia," Mr. Bureau added. "On the contrary, we never grant a license for a bonded warehouse without the express and unqualified consent of the Attorney-General of the Province. In the case of Halifax, the consent of the Attorney-General of that Province was obtained before a license for a bonded warehouse was granted."

"Would Wake Up Screaming"

"The Least Sudden Noise or Loud Talking Would Startle Him."

"Up to the age of eight, my boy was a strong, healthy lad, full of life and energy. While playing leap frog one day with some boys of his own age, and, while in a stooped position, a big boy jumped on his back and in falling my boy caught his foot in an iron grating and dislocated his hip. The pain was so great that he fainted and the other boys were so frightened they ran away. For hours he suffered terrible pain and when found and brought home was very weak, with his thigh and leg swollen twice its size. The doctor set the bone but the pain and exposure were too much for the poor boy and he became unconscious. A high fever set in and for weeks he lay between life and death raving for hours at a stretch. One day he opened his eyes and murmured 'Mother,' but this is the only word he could utter as he was so weak, but I knew the worst was over. He got stronger but for months was in a nervous condition. The least sudden noise or loud talking would startle him and he would begin trembling. He was quite lame and the swelling still remained. The doctor gave him a tonic and told me to rub the leg with olive oil. This reduced the swelling and took away the lameness, but the nervousness remained. The poor child would waken in the night screaming at the top of his voice. The doctor gave him several different tonics but they were no use. I found a circular about Carnol and it seemed so different from other tonics I had heard of, that I thought I would get a bottle. Three bottles were all that was needed to make my boy like his own self again. It is hard to convince my friends that the change in him now is entirely due to Carnol. Of course I still have to watch him and give him Carnol occasionally but I know that he will soon be as strong again as ever he was."

Mrs. P., Montreal

Carnol is sold by your druggist, and if you can conscientiously say, after you have tried it, that it hasn't done you any good, return the empty bottle to him and he will refund you money.

Why the ancient temples became "the clocks and calendars" of the cities wherein they stood?

Do you know—

What unsolved mystery was responsible for the action of ancient peoples in having most of their temples face the east?

History."

person by writing down something striking, some secret one knew, some strange thought or even one's name, so that long after one had gone one's way it might strike upon the sight and mind of another reader.

Even in Sumeria men scratched on walls, and all that remains to us of the ancient world, its rocks, its buildings, is plastered thickly with the names and the boasting of those foremost among human advertisers, its kings. Perhaps half the early inscriptions in that ancient world are of this nature, if that is, we group with the name-writing and boasting the epitaphs, which were probably in many cases pre-arranged by the deceased.

For long the desire for crude self-assertion of the name-scrawling sort and the love of secret understanding kept writing within a narrow scope, but that other, more truly social desire in men, the desire to tell, was also at work. The profounder possibilities of writing, the possibilities of extension and definition of those settlements of knowledge and tradition, only grew apparent after long ages.

But it will be interesting at this point and in this connection to recall certain elemental facts about life, upon which we laid stress in our earlier chapters, because they illustrate the nature of the human invention in the whole field of man's history, but also the role it is likely to play in his future.

Progressive Steps in Knowledge
1. Life had at first, it must be remembered, only a dim, indistinct recognition of consciousness, as the old died and the young were born.
Such a creature as a reptile has in its brain a capacity for experience, but when the individual dies its experience dies with it. Most of its motives are purely instinctive, and all the mental life that it has is the result of heredity (birth inheritance).

2. But ordinary mammals have added to pure instinct tradition, a tradition of experience inherited by the imitated example of the mother, and in the case of such mentally developed animals as dogs, cats or apes, by a sort of intuitive grasp also. For example, the mother cat chastises her young for misbehavior. So do mother apes and baboons.
3. Primitive man added to his powers of transmitting experience, representative art and speech. Pictorial and sculptured record and verbal tradition began.

Verbal tradition was developed to its highest possibility by the bard.
They did much to make language
what it is to the world to-day.
4. With the invention of writing, which developed out of pictorial record, human tradition was able to become fuller and much more exact.
Verbal tradition, which had hitherto changed from age to age, began to be fixed. Men separated by hundreds of miles could now communicate their thoughts. An increasing number of human beings began to share a common written knowledge and a common sense of a past and a future. Human thinking became a larger operation in which hundreds of minds in different places and in different ages could react upon one another; it became more continuous and more sustained.

5. For hundreds of generations the full power of writing was not revealed to the world because for a long time the idea of multiplying writings by taking prints of a first copy did not become a habit. The only way of multiplying writings was by copying one copy at a time, and this made books costly and rare.
Moreover, the tendency to keep things secret, to make a cult and mystery of them, and so to gain an advantage over the generality of men, has always been very strong in men's minds. It is only nowadays that the great masses of mankind are learning to read, and reaching out toward the treasures of knowledge and thought already stored in books.

The Opening Door
Nevertheless, from the first writings onward a new sort of tradition, an enduring and immortal tradition,
began in the minds of men. Life, through mankind, grew thereafter more and more distinctly conscious of itself and its world. It is a thin streak of intellectual growth we trace in history, at first in a world of two multitudes—ignorance and forgetfulness; it is like a mere line of light coming through the chink of an opening door into a darkest room; but slowly it widens, its grows.

At last came a time in the history of Europe when the door, at the push of the printer, began to open more rapidly. Knowledge flared up, and as it flared it ceased to be the privilege of a favored minority. For us now that door swings wider, and the light behind grows brighter. Misty it is still, glowing through clouds of dust and reek.

The door is not half open; the light is but a light new bit. Our world today is only in the beginning of knowledge.

SAYS RED PEPPER HEAT STOPS PAIN IN FEW MINUTES

Rheumatism, lumbago, neuritis, backache, stiff neck, sore muscles, sprains, aching joints. When you are suffering so you can hardly get around, just try Red Pepper Rub.
Nothing has such concentrated, penetrating heat as red peppers, and when heat penetrates right down into pain and congestion relief comes at once.

Just as soon as you apply Red Pepper Rub you feel the tingling heat. In three minutes the sore spot is warmed through and through and the torture is gone.
Rowles Red Pepper Rub, made from red peppers, costs little at any drug store. Get a jar at once. Be sure to get the genuine, with the name

GRAND BALL FOR MONDAY EVENING

Nurses and Local Regiments
Invite Public to Co-operate

The Grand Ball to be held under the auspices of the 5th Regiment, the Scottish and the Graduate Nurses in celebration of Armistice Day and which will be held in the Armories on Monday evening, promises to be a huge success.
Two bands will be in attendance and elaborate arrangements have been made by the nurses and all others connected with the affair to insure everyone having a really good time. The Fifth Regiment and 16th Scottish bands will play for the dances. Dancing will commence at 8 o'clock.

The armories have been charmingly decorated, and splendid arrangements have been made for the serving of refreshments. This feature being in charge of Mrs. Jenner. A large attendance is promised. Among those present will be the officers of the visiting Canadian and British war vessels.

The proceeds of the ball will be devoted to the Memorial Fund for the nurses who died in the service of their country overseas. For this reason alone the public is asked to give its hearty co-operation in making the affair a success.
The nurses of St. Joseph's and the Jubilee hospitals have been making an active canvass of the city for the sale of tickets, and those wishing to purchase admission may apply to Dr.
F. A. Stewart, 409 Jones Building, Angus Campbell, Owl Drug Store and General R. P. Clark. The nurses are indebted to David Spencer Limited, the Hudson's Bay Company and Angus Campbell for kindly arranging special window displays advertising the ball.

HOW TO REGAIN YOUR GOOD HEALTH

It Can Be Done Through Keeping the Blood Supply
Rich and Pure.

There is not a nook or corner in Canada, the cities, the towns, the villages, on the farms and in the mines and lumber camps, where Dr.
Williams' Pink Pills have not been used, and from one end of the country to the other kind words have been said for this medicine.

You have only to ask your neighbors, and they can tell you of some rheumatic or nerve-shattered man, some suffering woman, ailing youth or anemic girl who has been benefitted by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.
For more than a third of a century these pills have been known not only in Canada, but throughout the world as a reliable tonic, blood-enriching medicine.

The success of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is due to the fact that they go to the root of the disease in the blood, and by making the vital fluid rich, they strengthen the organs and nerves of the body. Mr. A. M. Large, Victoria, B.C., adds his testimony to that of thousands of others who have found benefit through the use of this medicine. He says:—"About three years ago I became dreadfully run down, so much so that I had to stop work altogether, and being a carpenter, and busily engaged, the outlook was gloomy. I became so reduced that I would have to rest even after a short walk. My appetite almost completely told me I would have to take a prolonged rest, and gave me a little of morose which, however, did not help me. Then a good friend urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I got a supply and before long felt an improvement. From that on, I continued to gain and was able to resume my employment. I continued taking the pills for some time longer, and now feel as vigorous as I ever did."

You can get these pills through any medicine dealer, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co.,
Brockville, Ont. (Adv't.)

ORGANIZATIONS TO COMMEMORATE ARMISTICE DAY

G. W. V. A. Plans Extensive Ceremonies As Share of Annual Event

Included in arrangements for the commemoration of Armistice Day, November 11, by the various returned service organizations of the city are plans of the local branch of the G. W. V. A. for a three-day carnival at the Royal Victoria Theatre, November 9 to 11. The same organization also plans to sell poppies made by the Disabled Veterans Association of Vancouver in aid of the funds of the organization in caring for the disabled. Poppies, 75,000 of which have been secured it is said, will be sold on the streets and in stores on Armistice Day. The G. W. V. A. will close their plans with an Armistice Ball to be given at the Empress Hotel on November 11.

Elaborate preparations have been made for all three events, the most extensive perhaps being those in the preparation of the carnival at the Royal Victoria Theatre. Three nightly showings, and a matinee on Saturday, will be given. In this production, which is made up of local actors, a company of 700 amateurs will support the principals. Rehearsals have been under way for several weeks under P. L. Lynwood. Special stage and lighting effects will be made use of in the presentation of the production.

Tickets may be obtained from the Empress News Stand and from the members of production. The plans prepared by the local branch of the G. W. V. A. are only part of extensive arrangements planned by the returned men in their several associations and other organizations.

The proceedings on Armistice Day will commence with a memorial service at the Royal Victoria Theatre, at the request of those of British Columbia contingent who fell in action. Provision has been made for the cessation of all activity for a period of two minutes reverent silence, at the request of His Majesty the King, submitted through the Governor General of Canada, Baron Byng of Vimy. Exact details of the period of silence are not yet to hand, but last year it was timed to take place from 11 a. m. to 11:02 a. m.

BIG BLACK BEAR JOINS COLONEL ON FISHING PARTY; MAKES BIG HAUL

Col. Donald McGugan and Walter
E. Shepherd, of 1145 Rockland Ave., have returned to Victoria after their tour up the island during which they met a big black bear. They were fishing at the mouth of a creek near Kildonan when they saw the big bear amble up in a friendly way and join in the fishing. Col. McGugan, who had had experience with bears in other parts of the country, advised other party members to keep calm and not take any rash action that would be liable to annoy the big fellow. So the two Victorians and the bear fished rather tame for sport. So they went

When Baby comes

BABY HINCE whose mother took Virrol regularly during the waiting period. She was thus able to breast-feed him for eleven months without feeling any exhaustion.

IN that wonderful moment when his little hand first clutches his mother, will baby be full of splendid life?

So much depends upon Mother's health in the waiting days. That is why Doctors all over the world advise expectant mothers to take Virrol the food that builds up, the food that delicate mothers can digest and profit by, and hand on that profit to the coming child. Virrol supplies just those vital elements of food which both she and baby especially need.

FOG OBSCURES ARABIA'S COURSE

Good Cargo Aboard For Seattle and Tacoma: 47 Tons For Victoria

The Arabia Maru, Captain K. Komiyama, of the Osaka Shosen Kaisha Line, which was expected to arrive here at daybreak, docked at noon owing to some delay caused by a two-day storm and dense fog which forced them back to the ocean when reaching the entrance to the Straits. All day yesterday and this day before Captain Komiyama battled with a storm which was exceptionally rough. High waves broke across the decks and some waves even washed the bridge.

Altogether the Arabia had a total tonnage of 1381 tons of silk, raw silk, silk goods, tea, lily bulbs, silk, rugs and general cargo for Victoria, Seattle and Tacoma.

To Victoria was consigned 47½ tons of cargo. Seventy-three packets of silk, 60 packets of silk and 315 packets of general cargo were discharged here. She carries a passenger list of forty. There were no passengers for Victoria.

SIXTY-FOOT SAIL CRAFT NAVIGATED OVER 20,000 MILES

Skipper Fred Gustafson Reaches Tampico, Mexico, From England

Recently Capt. George Waard started the world by his voyage from Shanghai to Victoria in the 23-ton Chinese junk Amoy. Now comes word from Tampico, Mexico, of a world cruise by a Swedish fishing smack. The Tampico Tribune of September 30 has the following to say about Gustafson and his remarkable voyage:

"The latter part of March, 1920, Fred Gustafson, Swedish by nationality, set out in a 60-foot fishing smack from Little Hampton, England. On September 20, 1922, after a voyage of about 20,000 miles, he sailed into Tampico harbor and registered with the port captain, giving the name of his vessel as the Yk and the number of his crew as five. He was anchored the first part of the week at the Aguila wharf.

"The boat measures only 60 feet from bow to stern and is equipped with two sails, the mainsail being 25 x 30 feet in dimensions. He does not have an engine of any kind on the boat, trusting entirely to his ability as a sailor which he inherited through several generations in the old Scandinavian peninsula. The ones who constitute the crew of five are his wife and two small children, Hilma and Fred, the latter known only as 'Bo's'n', and Karl Lindquist, an old sailor apparently nearly 60 years of age.

"The purpose of the trip, according to Gustafson, is to find suitable fishing waters where the supply can be depended upon for the operation of a fishing company which he intends to organize when he has accomplished his present purpose.

"The little vessel sailed out from Little Hampton, an English channel port, and first went to Brest, France. From there it went to Lisbon, Portugal. Then began the visit to strange coasts. From Lisbon the voyage took the little party to Casablanca, Morocco, on the northern coast of Africa. Gustafson had heard so much about the savage Moors that he wanted to see them for himself. But when he started to land the Spaniards came right in the midst of the bad men. They did nothing more than gaze with wide open eyes at the strangers, but as one approached the little boat, the mother became alarmed and was for setting sail immediately. Her fears, however, were allayed by the presence of the soldiers who chased the Moors back to a safe distance.

"From Casablanca, after a period of waiting, the party sailed for the west coast of the African continent. Here and at Sierra Leona, they found the fishing good, but they finally cut their journey and arrived at the Canary Islands. They were greatly impressed with the Canary Islands, its climate, natural beauty and the thriftiness of its people. Gustafson, as master of ship in former days, had made the Canaries many times, but had never been able to take his trip.

"Then came the biggest jump of the trip. Following practically the same route that Christopher Columbus, in a similar vessel more than four centuries ago, had taken on his great pathfinding job, he made straight across the Atlantic and arrived safely at the Bridgetown in the Barbadoes. It had taken him 27 days to make the trip of approximately 2,800 miles, or less than one-half the time it took Columbus to make the same voyage.

"He went from the Barbadoes to Mobile, Alabama, and from Mobile back to Caidia, Cuba. From Caidia, he was on his way to South America, and the South Georgia Islands, when he was forced out of his course in toward Tampico by heavy winds. These were soon out by the captain's warnings were sent out by the captain of the port there advising that there was a hurricane headed in this direction. One of his sails having given away, Gustafson made his way toward Tampico before heavy winds and high seas. On arriving at the harbor, he said, he had difficulty in making the pilot boats understand that he wanted to enter the harbor. He passed him several times and looked him over, apparently not seeming to grasp the situation that there was a seagoing vessel wanting to enter the harbor. Finally he succeeded in making arrangements to come in and anchored at the Aguila wharf.

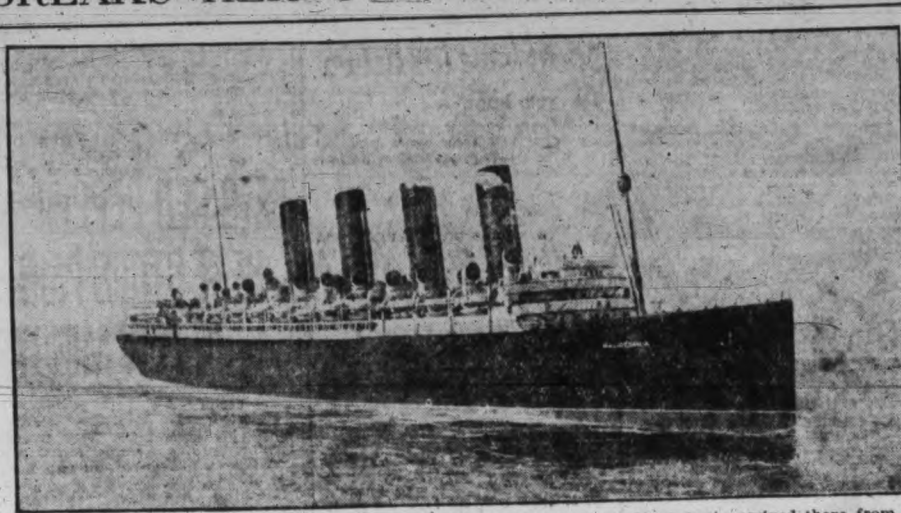

To South Georgia.

He is bound to the South Georgia Islands, which are about 800 miles east of the Falklands. South Georgia is where the famous polar explorer Sir Edward Shackleton is buried. Gustafson said he had seen Shackleton at the little village of Nut, near Gothenburg, Sweden. He said he expected to be on the seas for another two years before finishing his trip. He was not favorably impressed with Gulf fish for his purposes, as he declared they were hard to preserve. He is taking samples of fish with him in salt from various parts of the world.

"The party expects better weather and probably will reach the southern seas just as the Southern zone Summer is setting in and the northern zone is beginning to feel the chill winds from the other end of the earth."

San Francisco, Nov. 4.—The steamer Lurline of the Matson Navigation Company, scheduled to sail from here Thursday will be forced to remain in port for a week to undergo repairs.

BREAKS HER OWN ATLANTIC RECORD

Telegraphic advices from New York to-day state that the Cunard liner Mauretania arrived there from Cherbourg after a record passage of 5 days 7 hours and 33 minutes. Her previous fastest voyage, completed August 5, was 5 days 9 hours and 20 minutes.

STORM WARNING

A San Francisco report issued last night reports a storm approaching Vancouver Island. Strong to whole southeasterly gales are predicted for the week-end.

SALVORS WORKING ON STRANDED SHIP

SS. Guerrero, Ashore at Mazatlan, Reported to Be Badly Holed

The work of salvaging the steamship Guerrero at Mazatlan is being carried on under the supervision of Capt. W. H. Logan, local representative for the London Salvage Association, who went South to Mexico after working on the wrecked tanker Lyman Stewart on the California coast.

The Guerrero is badly holed, according to advices reaching the Pacific Salvage Company, and it is expected that the salvage contract will be a difficult one. The vessel is lying in a badly exposed position, getting the full sweep of the Pacific. Pumps have been rigged on board the stricken ship and the last message stated that an attempt was being made to get steam up on the vessel. The Algerine is standing by ready to take a tug at the stranded ship when the salvagers men reports everything in shape for the successful floating of the craft. Unless the salvagers are particularly fortunate, it is not probable that the Guerrero will be floated for some days, as she is in a bad position and exposed to the weather.

MUCH CANNED GOODS PASS THROUGH CANAL

San Francisco, Nov. 4.—There has been transported through the Panama Canal during the month of October more than 100,000 cases of canned goods, a record for the month of 1922, according to H. G. Cantelero, general manager on company for the Luckenbach Steamship Company. Mr. Cantelero arrived here yesterday after spending more than a week in the Northwest investigating shipping conditions.

All the tonnage passing through the canal in former years will be outstripped by thousands of tons for the twelve months of 1922. Mr. Cantelero said. He pointed out that the movement of dried fruits and beans has been particularly noticeable. He moved to the canned goods movement. He advanced the opinion that within two weeks the inter-coastal lines would have the unprecedented rush of freight under control.

THE ROUTE OF THE "CONTINENTAL LIMITED"

In Western Canada its route is known as the "Jasper Park-Mount Robson" route, and while the line passes through some of the finest mountain scenery in the world it has the distinction of having the lowest altitude of any transcontinental railway crossing the Rockies the highest point reached in crossing the "Great Divide" being 3712 feet. Eastbound at the prairie through Edmonton across the prairie and Winnipeg, the line traverses some of the finest farm lands of the west, thence east from Winnipeg over the transcontinental route to the beautiful lake country of northern Ontario and the famous Cobalt mining district, reaching all southern and western points with model dining and observation cars, as well as the regulation coaches for day passengers.

This train leaves for the east at 7:45 a. m. daily from the Canadian National Depot, Vancouver. Reservations and all details arranged at the Tourist and Travel Bureau, 911 Government Street.

EXPECT FARMER TRAVEL SOUTH

Admiral Line Figuring on Canadian Business For California

Seattle, Nov. 4.—In the expectation of unusually heavy travel to California this winter from Canadian agricultural areas C. L. Courtney, traveling passenger agent for the Admiral Line at Vancouver, B. C., conferred here with H. F. Alexander, president of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company, and E. G. McMicken, passenger traffic manager. Mr. Courtney, just returned from a trip to Winnipeg, reported that Canadian farmers have had a most prosperous season, and that after November 15, when the crops will be mostly out of the way, they are going South in large numbers.

With a heavy cargo from British ports, the Astronomer of the Harrison Direct Line is announced to arrive here Monday. One thousand tons of lumber, shingles and canned goods are booked for her return. She is to be followed by the Logistician, December 10, the Chancellor, December 17, the Statesman, January 1 and the Electrician, January 10. It was stated that bookings are so heavy for Europe that two vessels each in December and January were demanded on Puget Sound.

M. J. Wright, resident agent for the Luckenbach Steamship Company, announces the following sailing dates from Seattle for the recently increased Gulf service of the Luckenbach line: Lena Luckenbach, December 13, William Jeffries, December 28, William Campion, January 7, Horace Luckenbach, January 27.

As the Nankai Maru was passing out at Cape Flattery yesterday a seaman and his hand crashed. She put back into the Strait of Juan de Fuca, and the Coast Guard cutter Snohomish hastened to her. After the sailor had been given first aid by the surgeon of the Snohomish, the Nankai proceeded to Port Townsend and put him ashore.

NO BAR, SO BAR AMERICAN SHIPS

U.S. Shipping to Peru Seriously Affected by Liquor Law

Washington, Nov. 4.—Attorney General Daugherty's ban against liquor on American ships has hit the passenger traffic to Peru in American bottoms, the Commerce Department was advised to-day by Commercial Attaché Dunne at Lima. "Due to recent regulations regarding the sale of liquor on vessels," he reported, "passenger business on these ships has been seriously affected."

Prefer Wet Ships. Mr. Dunne's report was regarded by Department officials as indicating a preference on the part of passengers travelling between the United States and Peru to trans-ship at Panama, despite the four or five days delay in order to travel aboard a wet ship. Heretofore, officials declared, 70 per cent. of the direct traffic between the United States and Peru has been in American ships.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Owing to Monday being a holiday the usual monthly meeting of the Victoria Photographic Society will be held on Monday, November 13, at the Y. M. C. A. at 8 p. m.

A meeting of the various branches of the W. C. T. U. will be held at the Y. M. C. A. on Tuesday, at 2.30, for the purpose of considering the organization of a district W. C. T. U.

The prizes offered for the essay on "North and South" by the Saanich Agricultural Association, were awarded to Winnie Robbins and Amy Pearce of Cedar Hill School, first and second respectively.

The directors of the Chamber of Commerce will observe Monday, Thanksgiving Day, and the regular weekly luncheon will be held at the Dominion Hotel at the usual hour on Tuesday.

Inquiry at the home of W. M. Ivel, past president of the Liberal Association, who has been lying seriously ill for the past few days, elicited the information this morning that he is slowly improving.

The teachers and officers of St. Columba's Presbyterian Sunday School, Oak Bay, held a meeting Monday evening last, and decided to have a supper for the children on December 28, instead of the usual Christmas tree, with a gift for each scholar. Miss Grace Adam was made convenor of entertainment, so a jolly time may be anticipated.

Trade Commissioners Major Johnson and Dr. Ross, the former stationed at Glasgow and the latter at Shanghai will be visiting Victoria and will be the guests, it is hoped, of the Chamber of Commerce at luncheon meetings. Major Johnson will probably attend next Thursday's luncheon of the directors and Dr. Ross, who is now on the prairies, will arrive in the city later in the month.

Carrying out their kindly custom of the past few years, the children of the Kingston Street School held an entertainment on Friday afternoon to which they brought donations of jam, vegetables, groceries, clothing and fruit for the Friendly Help Association. Six small boy pupils accompanied the donation to the Association and the kindness of the school and take this opportunity of expressing their most grateful thanks to the children for the splendid gifts.

The following have consented to act on the general committee for "Stepping High," the revue to be given in aid of the Citizens' Billy Muir fund: Messrs. J. Neary, W. H. Meares, John T. Braden, J. W. Kelly, R. Stanhope, J. Wenger, J. Adams and H. Dighton. Finance committee, W. Meares, Braden and Neary; public relations, Mr. Braden, secretary-treasurer, W. J. Kelly. Those members taking part are requested to attend rehearsal Monday at 1.30, Campbell Building, at 7 o'clock, at Pantages Theatre, when the entire cast will be rehearsed.

The second of the series of dances under the auspices of the Elks' Amateur Swimming Club will be held next Wednesday evening, November 8, in the Elks' Hall, New Weller Bldg. Over one hundred swimmers and their friends attended the first dance of the series held last month and pronounced the affair a huge success, everyone being delighted with the evening's entertainment.

The committee in charge are not satisfied, however, and are working hard to make the coming dance even a greater success than the first affair, and they promise something new in the way of novelty events. Dancing will commence at 8 o'clock and continue till 1 a. m. with George Ozard's snappy three-piece orchestra again supplying the music. Any friends of the Swimming Club who have not yet received an invitation for these dances can do so by phoning the secretary at 491.

The ladies of Margaret Jenkins, P. T. A., are working hard for the sale of work which takes place on Wednesday, November 15, from 3 to 6 p. m. Mrs. Margaret Jenkins, the honorary president, has kindly consented to open the sale, there will be a fine display of roses, fruit, stalls of fancy and plain work, fruit, vegetables, etc. The school are having a staff, and the girls are working hard dressing dolls, and the boys making useful household articles, the committee are anxious to raise the sum of $450 to fence and plant the school grounds with trees and shrubs. Mr. Morrow, the landscape gardener, has drawn up a plan that calls for several hundred rose trees, and Major Clark has kindly offered to bud all the briars that the men bring to the grounds, so next year there should be a fine display of roses. Mrs. Baylis is the convener of the ladies' committee, and will be pleased to give further information to anyone telephoning 5255.

TO GRADE HIGH SCHOOL GROUNDS

City to Start Long-delayed Work Soon; Trees For Memorial Avenue

Grading of the Victoria High School grounds—a work which has been delayed for about ten years—will be started by the City before the end of the year, it was learned today. Money to cover the expense of the grading was included in the annual estimates at the beginning of the year.

Under the Public Works Committee's present plans the High School grading work will be used to provide employment for about twenty idle men. It is planned to carry out the work in such a way that the workers are paid for what they actually do. This, it was explained at the City Hall today, will be necessary as the City must keep within its appropriation for the entire work.

More trees, roses and shrubs will be planted on Shelbourne Street under plans which will be brought before the Council Tuesday, and which have been drawn up by city park officials.

MUSICAL WORLD ADMIRES STEINWAY PIANOS AT FLETCHER'S

It is by no means idealistic to say that the desire to achieve a pinnacle of perfection in a craft or calling brings as its reward a satisfaction which is more to be desired than mere monetary gain. The Steinway piano is the net result of a lifetime of invention, toil and aspiration. It took Henry Engelhard Steinway fifty years to make a piano that pleased him, but once he had established a standard of excellence that satisfied his exacting demands, he built to that standard and bequeathed to his descendants a piano with a reputation that is world-wide.

James H. Fletcher, of Fletcher Bros., Steinway representatives in British Columbia, has many nice things to say of the Steinway piano. His knowledge of a piano will not be questioned and his enthusiasm for the Steinway is unbounded.

The Steinway has been aptly named "The Instrument of the Immortals."

UNA and JOY CALVERT

Will give a Recital of violin and pianoforte music at St. Andrew's Church on Monday evening, November 13th. Already, with the first announcement of this recital, social events among Victoria's music-loving public are being arranged so that they will not conflict with the date of this concert.

The Misses Una and Joy Calvert are in accord with the greatest musicians of the day when they select the

as their chosen instrument. The Steinway is the piano that Paderevski uses wherever he appears and of which he says "The Steinway Piano is an unmistakable product of love of profession, and to it I pay my tribute of high esteem and admiration."

About thirty mothers were present at the Mothers' Welcome meeting, held under the auspices of the Child Hygiene Council at the Parish Hall, Esquimalt, on Thursday afternoon. The president, Mrs. Booth, gave a most instructive talk on different phases of Home Nursing such as ventilation in the sick room, cleanliness, taking temperatures, administering medicines properly, also supplying nourishment in an appetizing way. About twenty little people were also in the audience. Miss Kathleen Davis contributed beautiful vocal solos "Eyes of Blue" and "One Thought," which charmed the audience. Both she and Mrs. Booth received a hearty vote of thanks from the ladies. Refreshments will be served by Mesdames Sanders, Elston, Lock, Lockley and Jacklin at the close of the programme.

IN POLICE COURT.

Charged on remand in the city police court today with failure to drive in a careful and prudent manner, George Mellor was fined $20. J. A. "Jocko" Arrives To Play With Victoria

Anderson, Celebrated Forward of Calgary Tigers, Arrived In Town This Morning and Is Attending Practice To-day; Is Seasoned Player and Comes In Place of "Red" Dutton; Eddie Oatman Also Arrived; Team Is Working Out.

John W. Anderson, nationally known, as "Jocko," arrived in town this morning to join the Victoria hockey club. "Jocko" comes here to fulfill the terms of a contract with the Calgary club. "Red" Dutton was originally intended to be an Aristocrat, but he asked permission to spend another year on the prairies. Anderson has been in Vancouver for a month and although several little matters in connection with the trade have to be fixed up, Lester Patrick, manager of the Aristocrats, ordered the new star to report to-day.

"Jocko" will turn out with the Aristocrats to-day for his first practice. He is reported to be a star and Lester is congratulating himself on getting a seasoned player. Jocko is a forward and will be a great asset to the team.

In order to get some information on "Jocko's" ability The Times asked Harry Scott sporting editor of The Calgary Alberta for a short story, and the following is what he sent:

"Jocko" Anderson is bound to make a decided hit with Coast League fans. He was the mainstay of the Tigers last winter, and in fact was the only forward with scoring ability. Up to the time he injured his shoulder the Tigers were leading the Western Canada league. His injury kept him out of several games and by the time he returned to the ice, the Tigers were too far down to overtake Regina and Edmonton Eskimos.

The Net His Target.

"Jocko" is a colorful hockey player and one that takes with the people who pay their admission fee to the rink. Aside from possessing plenty of speed on the ice, he is a real shot. A defenseman in a crouching position something similar to the once great "Rusty" Crawford, who by the way has the disc in his possession, he is still playing the game. He skates his best in a crouching position, and the hockey net is his magnet and whether carrying the puck or alone side of a player, he has the disc in his possession. He is a real shot. A defenseman in a crouching position something similar to the once great "Rusty" Crawford, who by the way has the disc in his possession, he is still playing the game. He skates his best in a crouching position, and the hockey net is his magnet and whether carrying the puck or alone side of a player, he has the disc in his possession.

Anderson first saw the net at a village known as St. Peter, Man., 25 years ago. Little is known of St. Peter, but Selkirk, the fish town, where Jocko first learned the ice game, is known from coast to coast, as Joe Simpson, the Morrison brothers; Ruben Brandow and other members of the famous first Battalion, 1915 Allan cup holders, were schooled in the game in that town.

A Hockey Family.

"The latest addition to Lester Patrick's ranks comes from a hockey family, as six brothers have figured prominently in that fascinating game. "Choppy," the senior member of the Anderson family, played in Winnipeg for years and of late has been with the Spencer's and Elks of Vancouver. "Dinky" helped Regina capture the Western Canada league championship last winter. Bob is playing for Cochrane, of the Northern Ontario league. Mac started in in Winnipeg for years. Alf, 12 years old, is starting in junior school hockey at Cochrane.

Plays Anything.

"The only games that Jocko hasn't made a success at are checkers and cricket. He has played soccer, rugby, baseball, tennis, lacrosse, basketball and is an expert swimmer. Of these games he is probably most prominent in soccer, as he had the distinction of playing with the Winnipeg Scottish team, that won the Dominion championship in 1915. This year he was the leading scorer of the Calgary Canadians, Alberta's pioneer football team.

Resides being a real athlete Jocko Anderson is a likable fellow and his genial mood makes him friends on and off the hockey arena or the football field. Personally I figure that he will deliver the goods in the Coast league, as he has the determination, the stamina and the willingness to try anything that his manager desires."

Eddie Oatman, captain of the Aristocrats, arrived in town yesterday after spending the summer in St. Paul. Eddie took on some weight and says he is feeling better than ever. He hopes for a big season.

Eddie came out with a big boost for Mickey Ion. Eddie played with Vancouver against St. Paul for the world's championship, and he says that the Eastern referees can't hold a candle to Mickey Ion.

"Mickey gives everyone a chance, but they don't down East," says Eddie.

The Victoria hockey players are working out every afternoon and evening, and will soon be in good shape.

ROSENBERG AND O'DOWD WILL FIGHT FOR TITLE

New York, Nov. 4.—Dave Rosenberg, of Brooklyn, and Mike O'Dowd, of St. Paul, Minn., will box for the middleweight championship in New York state in a fifteen-round bout Thanksgiving Day, November 20, it was announced last night.

MANY CHAMPIONS LOSE TITLES IN 1922

By Billy Evans

The year 1922 will go down in the annals of sport as a jinx season for champions.

Although two months of the current year remain, champions in practically every line of sport have lost their titles.

Perhaps the biggest upset in sporting circles was the absolute failure of that great racehorse, Morvich. As a two-year-old Morvich was unbeaten in twelve starts. He was placed in the same class as Man-o-War. No one disputed his right to the two-year-old championship of the turf.

What would Morvich do as a three-year-old? It has been the history of the turf that many a great two-year-old fails to perform consistently as a three-year-old.

Morvich Big Disappointment.

Morvich won his first start, the Kentucky Derby, in impressive style. The Kentucky Derby is generally regarded as the classic of the running game. True, Morvich didn't face a strong field in the Derby, but he ran a great race.

The critics were ready to hail Morvich as the peer of all three-year-olds. Then something went wrong. In every start during 1922 Morvich was badly beaten. Favored to win every race he started he failed miserably each time out.

Unquestionably the absolute collapse of Morvich as a champion was the outstanding feature of 1922 from a sport angle.

Mile, Lenglen Comes Back

Another decided reversal of form was the defeat of Mrs. Mallory, American woman tennis champion, by Mademoiselle Lenglen. In their previous meeting Mademoiselle Lenglen had defaulted early in the match after being apparently outclassed. She gave, as the reason, illness, but American tennis critics accused her of quitting cold.

The result of the clash caused much ill-feeling in French and American tennis circles. Mrs. Mallory invaded Europe to prove that her victory was not a mere fluke as claimed by Mademoiselle Lenglen.

The outcome was a decisive victory for Mademoiselle Lenglen, and a terrible jolt for Mrs. Mallory and American tennis.

Golf Honors to Sarazen

Gene Sarazen, by his defeat of Walter Hagen, must be regarded as supreme in golf.

Hagen won the British open, Sarazen the American title. Recently the two met in a little golf world series, and Sarazen emerged the victor.

While no actual title passed, still Hagen for the time being lost his right to be classed as the greatest money player in golfing circles.

Marion Hollins, who held the woman's golf title in America, was succeeded in the throne by Glenna Collett, the sensational Providence, R.I., player.

Boxing circles the world of Georges Carpentier, defeat of the flyweight and bantamweight titles at the start of the year. Joe Lynch is now bantam champ and Pancho Villa the flyweight title-holder.

In boxing the fall of Babe Ruth was a tragedy. Home-run king for three years, monarch of all he surveyed in swatdom, Ruth was jolted from his throne by Roger Hornsby. Jack Britton passed on the court, and what's going to happen in sportdom.

Asked who would win if he lost, he replied: "William M. Johnston. He played a wonderful game last season and seems to be getting better."

Two fast basketball games will be played to-night at the Trades Hall gymnasium, commencing at 7:30 o'clock.

Gordon's Ltd., Senior Girls will meet the Metropolitans and their game will be watched with interest. They have organized a girls' team this season and are preparing to play in the Ladies' City Basketball league.

Miss Violet Curnow, secretary of the Ladies' league, is one of the enthusiastic players on the team and it is expected that Gordon's "Peanuts" will make a good showing to-night.

Their opponents will be the Senior Girls' team, Spencer's Ltd. Spencer's girls have had possibly more experience on the floor than Gordon's, and Jack Neary is bringing out some players who should hold Spencer's records remarkably well.

The game should be exciting, as both houses are bringing along a good crowd of supporters to cheer their favorites on to victory.

Mets vs. Normal School.

Immediately after the ladies' game the Senior Men's team from Victoria Normal School will meet the Metropolitans in a whirlwind exhibition which should prove interesting.

"Bud" Bass is a member of the Normal team and has four other good men who will show some speed.

Fred Lewis, Al Hemingway, and Sid Hopkins are on the Metropolitan lineup and are all capable players. To-night's programme is as follows:

7:30 p. m.—Senior Girls: Gordon's "Peanuts" vs. Spencer's "Speedsters."

8:15 p. m.—Senior Men: Normal School vs. Metropolitans.

St. Andrew's Senior team are asked to be on hand at 8:15 p. m. to mark out the gymnasium for badminton, as a club is being formed and play will commence next week.

CANUCK BANTAM KING TRIMS JOHNNY ERTL

Hamilton, Ont., Nov. 4.—The Canadian bantamweight champion, Bobby Eber, easily disposed of Johnny Ertl, of St. Paul, Minn., bantamweight, in a 10-round bout at the Arena, Erie, Pa., former world's champion had an even break with Eber in the first round, but after that the Hamilton boy had matters all his way. Eber was far superior to the St. Paul pugilist, his left hand sweeping in and out with very few misses.

The "Caps" and "Vics" have been suggested. Then there are the "Robins," "Ring-necks," "Tigers," "Bengals," "Hornets," "Swans," "Diggers," "Beavers," "Snips," and a raft of other old-timers. A real original name which will give the town some advertising, is sought by the management. It may be impossible to find one, and if this is the case one of the hackneyed appellations will be used.

LADYSMITH TO PLAY ALL-STARS MONDAY

Best Football Game of Season to Be Staged at Royal Park on Holiday

Miners Have Not Been Beaten This Season; Proceeds for "Billy Muir Fund"

Thanksgiving Day has been reserved for one sporting attraction. It will be the football game between Ladysmith and the Victoria All-Stars at the Royal Athletic Park. The proceeds of the game will be devoted to the "Billy Muir Fund." The kick-off will be at 2:30 o'clock.

It is expected that one of the largest crowds that has attended a football game in Victoria in years will be on hand for the holiday fixture. The game has several good drawing points. First and foremost is the worthy object of the game. The funds will go to providing the best comfort and attention for the gallant young diver who is living with a broken back.

Miners Undefeated.

The game will also mark the first appearance of outside competition this season. Ladysmith is the finest team on the island, and has not yet been defeated in the Upper Island League. The club is strong in all departments.

Victoria will field a pretty nifty team, and it will not be on its toes in order to hold the miners. The local squad will be led by the veteran, Bob Whyte, who will have his old team-mate, Harry Copas, at full back with him for the first time this year.

The soccer fans will relish this game. The First Division soccer this season has been of an inferior brand that provided in past seasons, and the visit of Ladysmith is heralded with much acclaim.

The Victoria club will use the Metropolitans while Ladysmith will be looked after at the Veterans of France.

The teams will line up as follows:

Victoria Position Ladysmith

P. Shrimpton Captain
Bob Whyte Full-back
H. Copas Full-back
A. Allen Half-back
J. Orr Half-back
H. Cummins Forward
G. Allan Forward
J. Cummings Forward
A. Muir Forward
Clarkson Forward
C. Baker Reserve
Sweeten Reserve
Dowds Reserve

W. W. Pearson will referee the game and Locke and Stokes will act as the linesmen.

LADIES' TEAMS WILL MAKE DEBUT TO-NIGHT

Gordon's and Spencer's Hoop Artists to Play; Exciting Men's Game on Card

Two fast basketball games will be played to-night at the Trades Hall gymnasium, commencing at 7:30 o'clock.

Gordon's Ltd., Senior Girls will meet the Metropolitans and their game will be watched with interest. They have organized a girls' team this season and are preparing to play in the Ladies' City Basketball league.

Miss Violet Curnow, secretary of the Ladies' league, is one of the enthusiastic players on the team and it is expected that Gordon's "Peanuts" will make a good showing to-night.

Their opponents will be the Senior Girls' team, Spencer's Ltd. Spencer's girls have had possibly more experience on the floor than Gordon's, and Jack Neary is bringing out some players who should hold Spencer's records remarkably well.

The game should be exciting, as both houses are bringing along a good crowd of supporters to cheer their favorites on to victory.

Mets vs. Normal School.

Immediately after the ladies' game the Senior Men's team from Victoria Normal School will meet the Metropolitans in a whirlwind exhibition which should prove interesting.

"Bud" Bass is a member of the Normal team and has four other good men who will show some speed.

Fred Lewis, Al Hemingway, and Sid Hopkins are on the Metropolitan lineup and are all capable players. To-night's programme is as follows:

7:30 p. m.—Senior Girls: Gordon's "Peanuts" vs. Spencer's "Speedsters."

8:15 p. m.—Senior Men: Normal School vs. Metropolitans.

St. Andrew's Senior team are asked to be on hand at 8:15 p. m. to mark out the gymnasium for badminton, as a club is being formed and play will commence next week.

CANUCK BANTAM KING TRIMS JOHNNY ERTL

Hamilton, Ont., Nov. 4.—The Canadian bantamweight champion, Bobby Eber, easily disposed of Johnny Ertl, of St. Paul, Minn., bantamweight, in a 10-round bout at the Arena, Erie, Pa., former world's champion had an even break with Eber in the first round, but after that the Hamilton boy had matters all his way. Eber was far superior to the St. Paul pugilist, his left hand sweeping in and out with very few misses.

The "Caps" and "Vics" have been suggested. Then there are the "Robins," "Ring-necks," "Tigers," "Bengals," "Hornets," "Swans," "Diggers," "Beavers," "Snips," and a raft of other old-timers. A real original name which will give the town some advertising, is sought by the management. It may be impossible to find one, and if this is the case one of the hackneyed appellations will be used.

NORMAL SCHOOL BOYS WIN, BUT GIRLS ARE BEATEN BY COLLEGE

The Normal School senior men's basketball quintette yesterday defeated the Victoria College squad by three points, after a grueling final score was 16-13.

At the end of the first half the score stood 4-4, with both teams fighting and pressing one another hard.

The College Girls, led by Miss M. Bell, easily defeated the Normal School by a score of 16-13.

The ladies' teams were as follows—Normal School, Misses Robinson, Greenwood, Woodman, Payne, Donnell and Archibald. Victoria, College—Misses M. Bell, Styn, Barnett, Lewis and Musgrave.

The men's teams were the following—Normal School: Moses, Bartlett, Hastings, Bruce Hopkins and Nimmo. The College—Forbes, Caviness, Hordley, Christie, McGregor and Lewis.

GRASS HOCKEYISTS IN FOR BIG YEAR

Will Field Strong Team; Stanier and Miss King Are Elected Captains

The season which is now beginning promises to be a very successful one for grass hockey in Victoria. This can easily be noticed by the many new members of the city club, some of whom are boys and show great promise.

The club will be able to put a strong team into the field when the season arises. With the exception of Harold Hudson and Ideans, who have left the town, all those who helped to defeat Vancouver easily last season in the two matches that were played on the Jubilee Hospital grounds, are back in harness.

English Player Here

Bunting, who played centre forward for Middlesex, while he was in England, will take the place of Ideans in this position and should prove a very useful man.

Stanier is to act as captain this season and Miss King is again to be captain and Miss Helen Hunter has been elected vice-captain.

Matches, mixed and otherwise, have been arranged for and a most enjoyable season is expected.

GAME AT SAANICHTON.

A basketball game will be staged in the Agricultural Hall, Saanichton, this evening between the Colonist and Saanichton Athletic Association. Tables will be arranged in an adjoining room for a military 500 drive and this will take place after the basketball game. Lady members of the club will serve refreshments and a pleasant evening is assured all who attend.

BAYS WILL DEFAULT GAME TO WEILER'S

Bays Cannot Field Team on Monday Morning; Garrison Play Fitz's

The Wednesday League soccer games scheduled for next week, will be played on the morning of Thanksgiving Day. Weilers were billed to play Hudson's Bay at Beacon Hill at 10:30 but owing to the fact that Bays are defaulting the game. Last time these two teams met the game ended in a draw. The two points to the table this time.

The other game that is scheduled is at the Royal Athletic between Fitz's and the Colonist. The kick-off will be at 10:30 sharp. The last time these two teams met the Garrison won but Fitz's intend to turn the tables this time.

Following players will turn out on Sunday morning at the Royal Athletic at 10:30 to practice for Weilers: Baker, Neary, H. Copas, Hall, Sweeten, Harper, Stewart, Fletcher, Peden, Kay, Livingston, and R. Copas.

LARGE INCREASE IN FIRMS COLLECTING COMPENSATION

Report of Board Is Presented to Legislature

The fifth annual report of the Workmen's Compensation Board, presented to the Legislature by Premier Oliver, reveals some interesting facts regarding the industrial life of the Province. Although the year 1921 was not generally regarded as particularly prosperous one, still there was considerable real progress made toward re-adjustment in many of the industries. While 881 firms discontinued operating in business covered by the Workmen's Compensation Act, 1,425 new firms commenced operations. The net increase in operating firms during the year was 544. At the end of 1921 there were 6,393 firms covered under the Act, engaging 120,000 men and representing a yearly payroll of approximately $125,000,000. There was collected during the year the sum of $2,454,311.30, which includes $254,272.62 contributed by the workmen towards medical aid. There was expended during the year in compensation to injured workmen, $788,472.11. Medical attention, drugs and hospital care cost, $431,747.45. Pensions paid during the year amounted to $365,932.92, and further pensions and compensation and expenses payable in respect of accidents occurring during 1921 amounted to $369,068.51.

The total cost of accidents settled for during any year are payable out of the monies collected during that year. Consequently the employers of the Province pay for accidents as they occur. By the system of having each year's assessments taken care of the cost of the accidents of the year, future employers are not burdened with a load of unpaid pensions in respect of accidents occurring prior to the year in which they first engage in business. The money which is set aside each year and put into the pension fund is the exact amount necessary to take care of the pension awards arising from the accidents which have occurred during the year. This fund is required by the Workmen's Compensation Act to be invested in approved securities under the "Trustee Act," to meet future pension award payments in cases that have been allowed. The monies so set aside and invested are the monies of the dependents of deceased workmen as well as of those permanently incapacitated.

The accidents reported during 1921 totaled 16,883, of which number 162 were fatal. Fewer accidents resulted in death than during any year since the Act came into effect. There were 216 fatal accidents in 1920, 277 in 1919, 240 in 1918, and 317 in 1917, or an average of 222 for the five years. Compensation was paid in 2,378 cases during the year, and in 6,230 others medical attention only was necessary as the cost of time was less than three days. During the first five years operation of the Act 91,043 non-fatal claims were settled and 11,112 fatal. There are now 1,129 dependents receiving monthly pension cheques as a result of the fatalities of the five years.

For the year there was a daily average of 60 accidents, and a monthly average of 1,407. During 1921, 27,284 cheques were issued for medical aid, compensation and pensions. The average period of disability in respect of the accidents was 33 days. Of these in which complete record was given, 4,422 were married men, and 4,292 were single. Ninety-one of the accidents reported were accidents to women and girls. In only 81 cases reported were it shown that the workmen were receiving any other benefits than those furnished under the Workmen's Compensation Act. The nationality of 6,832 of those injured was given as British and Canadian, 419 American, 299 Italian, 31 French, 237 Russian, 300 Scandinavian, 447 Chinese, 464 Japanese, 88 Hindus, 66 Austrians and 14 Germans.

Cities Reminded of Duties. Enforcement was the difficult task, continued Mr. Manson, and he outlined the duty of the municipalities. The municipal authorities were obligated to enforce the law and only by their aid could the department secure results. Even in prohibition times, he recounted, there had been a great deal of law-breaking.

The minister referred to the instructions he had sent out to municipal police officials shortly after he took office. They were reminded of their legal duty, and also of the direct profit to be gained through the collection of fines and the half share of the profits set aside for the municipalities. In most instances the municipalities had done right, out

MONTREAL, CANADA

There were some cases where the Government found it necessary to step in.

Warns Moderationists.

Here the Attorney-General sounded a warning to the supporters of government control.

"I am not speaking as one in favor, for, like the Premier, I voted otherwise; but just so far as people go, discrediting the Act, just so much closer are they to bone-dry conditions," he cautioned. "So the Act's supporters should help enforce it."

"Up to the present we have not entered any municipality to take over complete control. We want the municipalities to do their duty and have kept men moving from place to place to study conditions. In cases where municipalities have not had the necessary machinery we have offered the help of the staff. And if the act is not dealt with fairly its repeal will result."

Checked Up Prince Rupert.

Referring to Mr. Bowser's charges of discrimination against himself, the Attorney-General said he did not think honorable gentlemen opposite took any stock in that. Before he assumed office, he explained, he had drawn the attention of the proper officials to conditions in Prince Rupert, which should have been corrected.

"And conditions are not bad in Prince Rupert; they are much worse in places close to here. But my first step as Attorney-General was to notify the authorities of Prince Rupert to see that the law was enforced."

"I was solicitous of the welfare of my own home city, and my action was taken long before Mr. Stevens made his charges against me. Mr. Manson said after he communicated with Prince Rupert he had received a telegram from the Mayor, who expressed a desire to co-operate."

No Dawson Beer Missing. Referring to the remarks made regarding the F. G. Dawson firm, he explained that his papers showed that every bottle and barrel of beer were accounted for, and he expressed his confidence that men in prominent positions should spend their time in running around trying to "dig up such stuff."

"And what about the Opposition? Leader's reference to the photographs of cheques paid by one club owner for beer?" he asked. "I asked to see them, and they refused. He must take all the odium he can heap upon it. If that is the honorable gentleman's idea of citizenship, I have a poor idea of good citizenship."

Play No Friends Order.

The Attorney-General said he was anxious to hear of anything wrong that was transpiring, as that was the only way the law could be enforced. He spoke of the appointment of a supervisor of enforcement and of instructions given to the municipalities. He said that the effect of the Attorney-General's has no friends when it comes to the enforcement of the Act.

Mr. Manson said he was aware that there were infractions committed by vendors. He referred to the instance quoted by Mr. Stevens of one woman buying an excessive amount of liquor on her permit, and amount of liquor not been brought to his attention. He had heard nothing of this instance for eight months, but the matter might well have been brought to the attention of some responsible official.

Those "Manson Mickeys."

"Conditions are improving but are far from perfect," he asserted, "and I want the assistance of every good citizen. If I get it the act will work out all right."

Mr. Manson mentioned the "mickeys" which he said had given Mr. Bowser some amusement. As a matter of fact the provision of 16-ounce round bottles (not flat, hip mickeys) had been in the interests of the people. It enabled them to buy the bottles could not be "smuggled into public places" any better than the regulation sized receptacles. "This Government has no mickeys; I took care they did not," he declared. "And we found that the 8-ounce bottle was not satisfactory. It had been intended for medicinal purposes, but was being bought in large quantities, but now we see that it is sold only for medicine."

No Sunday Liquor Stores.

He claimed that keeping the liquor stores open on Wednesday afternoon was in the interests of good enforcement, and that thousands of dollars had been taken out of the bootleggers' pockets as a result.

But we do not intend to keep open on nights," he announced, "nor on Sundays either, if that is what my honorable friend is worrying about."

CAPITOL

More than 5,000 pipe organs and theatre orchestras in as many motion picture theatres throughout the United States and Canada, played the Mendelssohn wedding march at four o'clock one afternoon last June, in compliment to Richard Barthelmess, prominent film star, and his bride, Miss Mary Hay, late of the Ziegfeld "Nine o'clock Revue."

Mr. Barthelmess, prominent for several years in Dorothy Gish productions, and later in D. W. Griffith's "Broken Blossoms" and "The Idiot Dancer," was married to Miss Hay in the Church of the Heavenly Rest (Episcopal), Fifth Avenue and Forty-fifth Street, New York City.

The romance between Miss Hay and Mr. Barthelmess found its culmination at the D. W. Griffith studios at Mamaroneck, N.Y., where both the young players were rehearsing for the Griffith production of "Way Down East," in which Miss Hay appears as Kate Brewster and Mr. Barthelmess as David Bartlett. This picture is now showing at the Capitol Theatre.

Miss Hay began her motion picture career three years ago in Mr. Griffith's production of "Hearts of the World," in which she was seen as the principal dancing girl in a replica of a German dug-out. She later left the screen and went upon the speaking stage, appearing in a number of Ziegfeld musical productions, the last being the "Nine o'clock Revue" on the roof of the New Amsterdam Theatre, New York. She is the daughter of Colonel and Mrs. Merrill Caldwell, and was born at Fort Bliss, Texas, August 22, 1901.

Mr. Barthelmess, who is a graduate of Trinity College, Hartford, Conn., has been on the screen for but a few years, principally with Dorothy Gish and in Griffith productions. Within the present year he will head his own company and appear as a star.

which appears in the Dominion Theatre all this week.

Mr. Maigne's eulogy of Miss Minter's bravery was inspired by her performance of the big thrill stunt of the picture, in which she slips from a fallen tree which lies across a chasm and falls some twenty-five or thirty feet into a pool and the rapids of the stream below.

A double had been provided to do this perilous drop. The scene was made, and Miss Minter, watching from the sidelines, exclaimed: "That doesn't look so bad. If he can do it, I can, too!"

At her insistence, Director Maigne agreed to let her make the drop. She took the plunge without wavering and the scene was made.

"Now I can take pride in the fact that the work in the picture is my own," she declared, after being rescued from the swirling rapids. Miss Minter's portrayal of her role also involved some difficult horsewoman-ship and other dangers attendant upon making scenes in the rough mountainous country chosen as the locale for the exterior scenes.

ROYAL VICTORIA

Following the stupendous success won by "Molly O." Mack Sennett has produced another feature picture reads of New York, which is being released through Associated First National Pictures, Inc. and will be the attraction at the Royal Victoria Theatre for the last time to-night.

As his aides in making "The Crossroads of New York" the producer has assembled many of the artists famous in his former line of endeavor. Mr. Richard Jones, who directed "Molly O." is the director for this picture. The cast includes in addition to George O'Hara and Kathryn McGuire, who play the leads, Eddie Gribbon, Billie Bevan, Charles Murray, Dot Farley and Mildred June, all well known performers of the Sennett studios. Then, too, there are Noah Beery, famous for his portrayal of heavy types; Herbert Standing, veteran character actor; Ethel Grey Terry and Ben Deely.

Fresh from the country, young Michael Flint comes to New York to live with his Uncle James, a regular martinet of the Wall Street school. Uncle has different ideas as to how his nephew will find a name in the world and sets him out to bustle for his own subsistence. Romance and adventure come coincidentally when Michael saves a beautiful heiress from a runaway horse, finds himself involved with a prospective Broadway star, and suddenly becomes the inheritor of millions when Uncle is reported lost in Alaska. The report proves to be false, but before the missing financier reappears the plot has wound its way through innumerable episodes that have been cemented together into a story replete with drama, humor and thrills.

The picture comes to a climax with a smashing episode which, for action and realism, establishes a new high-water mark on the screen.

THE PLAYHOUSE

In a glowing setting of amethyst skies, burning sands, green palms, pyramids and hieroglyphics, the "Wizard of the Nile" holds the stage at the Playhouse this week and next. The plot deals with the adventures of one Kibosh, a grifter with all the attributes of his present day counterparts, who in the capacity of court magician is ordered by the king to produce rain, plenty of it, and at once, or to prepare for the block. How he succeeds in appeasing the wrath of his royal master cannot be told here, suffice it to say that his adventures are provocation of much mirth on the part of the audience. The part of the Wizard is admirably played by Ernie Petch, and the supporting cast is an exceptionally strong one including as it does, Bob Webb as the King, Reggie Hincks as Cheops, the Minister of Lands and Works, whose visit to New York at the ratepayers expense has provided Pharaoh's Egypt with a brand new method of regulating the traffic! Eva Hart as Charmion, Gipsy Switzer as the Queen, Marie McLaughlin, Dorothy Sehl and Agnes Stuart-Robertson as ladies of the court, and Dave Dumbleton and Jack Gillan as court officials. Paine have been taken to ensure accuracy as regards costumes and scenery and the result is that the atmosphere of ancient Egypt has been re-created for the edification of Playhouse patrons. If jocular reference is made from time to time to fads and follies of a later day (things not unknown even in our ultra-modern Victoria) the audience's enjoyment is only increased thereby.

A visit to the Playhouse can be thoroughly recommended to all who enjoy clean wholesome entertainment.

COLUMBIA

The company which made "Shame," which is showing for the last time to-day at the Columbia Theatre went to far Alaska for the wild scenes at the end of the picture. The wolves that attack the wanderers and are shot by William Mong, and the wolf that attacks John Gilbert and is killed by him, are real wolves, and the company did not have much fun posing for these scenes.

STORY GOES BACK THREE HUNDRED YEARS AT CAPITOL

Was jazz known in the early seventeenth century? If not, what effect might such music have had on the people of that day?

An orchestra was playing music of an ancient vintage on the set during the filming of "To Have and To Hold," a George Fitzmaurice production for Paramount Pictures, which will be shown at the Capitol Theatre next week. The action of the extras in the scene was dull, lifeless and inexpressive.

Near the orchestra sat Betty Compson, who, with Bert Lytell, is featured in the picture. She suggested jazz music. The musicians responded with a syncopating fox-trot. Immediately the extras lived up. They entered in person and the entire set came to life. The incident caused many to wonder just what effect modern jazz music might have had on people of the early American days.

DOMINION TO SHOW "THE OLD HOMESTEAD" ON MONDAY

To be a successful screen actor, learn to pitch hay! Of course, if you're going to work in rural dramas of the screen, you've got to expect to know all about the art of farming and Theodore Roberts, Harrison Ford and others in the cast of the Paramount picture, "The Old Homestead," discovered that pitching hay, driving teams, using a hayrack or a go-devil, herding milk cows and feeding pigs are all part of the accomplishments necessary to properly portray such roles as theirs.

James Cruze, the director, didn't expect them to be perfect at their farming work but they had at least to seem familiar with it. Ethel Wales did most of the cooking as Aunt Matilda. "Thank goodness," she says, "I learned that before I became an actress."

"The Old Homestead" will be seen at the Dominion Theatre next week.

THREE DAYS FOR "EVERY GIRL" AT THE ROYAL VICTORIA

Pat Rafferty, the inimitable comedian of the "Maple Leaf" has been engaged for the principal comedy role in the season's greatest musical success, "Everygirl," which comes to the Royal Victoria Theatre for three days, commencing Monday, Nov. 6, with a special matinee on Thanksgiving.

Rafferty is undoubtedly one of the funniest comedians that has ever visited Canada and he has made a name for himself throughout this country that is fast matching that of his well-known father, Pat Sr., in the British Isles.

Pat was just getting started on his career in Canada when they started a war back in 1914. Being an Irishman, he was one of the first to go back looking for the place where they were having the fight. He found it—and it took him four years to fight his way back to Canada.

division show he decided that he wanted to play a part in some big musical comedy, where they had girls and everything.

One of his best scenes in "Everygirl" is in the episode of the Turkish harem, where he portrays "Lord" Chesterfield, the Sultan's valet. The Sultan has divorced all his wives in order to win the heart of the Canadian heiress, "Everygirl." One of his wives, Fatima, of the baby elephant type, chooses Chesterfield as her second husband, and at the conclusion of the ceremony presents him with a Magic Cluster, telling him that each flower is a barometer of his love for her. How he tries to keep the blossoms fresh provides a carnival of laughter.

Rafferty sings several of the twenty-six songs hits of the show and does a burlesque ballet dance that is a knockout.

"Everygirl" comes here with the unanimous endorsement of being one of the best, if not the best girl, and music show ever presented by, with and for Canadians.

The entire production is under the personal direction of Tom McKnight who plays the Bunsby role and introduces the various scenes.

News From the Markets

ADVANCE IN HAY IS EXPLAINED

Car Shortage Is Chief Cause; Short Coast Crop Advances Local Market

A short crop on the coast and the car shortage in the United States is the chief cause in the advance of hay on the market, affirmed a leading local feed merchant this morning.

The long dry season started the growth of hay, and as a result the local market is short of coast hay. Timothy hay was advanced this week owing to the scarcity.

Following the turning over of the railways by the United States Government after the war to the companies the equipment had depreciated very much, and the railway companies were handicapped by the lack of capital to put the cars and locomotives into good condition again. Now the coal strike this year detained the storage of coal during the summer months, and aggravated a shop strike, all of which has been the cause of the car shortage in the United States.

The alfalfa hay which is procured by local concerns and other provincial feed companies comes chiefly from Yukon. The car situation in the West is a very serious factor, as every car that travels East is sent to the coal fields to fill up the gap caused by the two strikes. There is plenty of alfalfa hay in America, where the crop has been a good one this year, but the question is how to get it to the coast without the necessary cars.

In referring to the car shortage in the United States, Frank B. Gibbs, who has just returned from a trip to the East, illustrated how the strike has had an effect on the delivery of coal, saying that it was a usual occurrence to hear two men talking of their coal supply. One man would relate how he had secured a ton of coal while the other would reply that he had two tons in his cellar. This supply, stated Mr. Gibbs, was but a short one for a winter's supply for most people.

Very few changes were registered on the retail market this morning. The prices have been revised as follows:

COPPER STOCKS ACTIVE TO-DAY

By Burdick Bros. Ltd.

New York, Nov. 4.—Most of the day's turnover in the stock market was representative of evening-up commitments for the week-end, and price changes carried no special significance. There was some buying in several of the copper issues, and the expectation of some dividend announcements in the near future. The market as a general proposition seems to meet more resistance on the outside today than it has in the past few days. The values in most departments were more inclined to sag again, unless of course some of the copper issues make their appearance meanwhile.

Following the turning over of the railways by the United States Government after the war to the companies the equipment had depreciated very much, and the railway companies were handicapped by the lack of capital to put the cars and locomotives into good condition again. Now the coal strike this year detained the storage of coal during the summer months, and aggravated a shop strike, all of which has been the cause of the car shortage in the United States.

TO-DAY'S EXCHANGE Wholesale Market

By Burdick Bros. Ltd.

New York, Nov. 4.—The feature of the day's trading in wheat was the switching of holdings from December to May, which resulted in narrowing the difference between the two months to the extent of about one cent. This action apparently influenced by an eager tone in the local spot market where premiums on red wheat were further reduced. The season's crop in the West has not been placed and that also considerable additional business had been done. Outside cash markets the past few days have not been very active. The local market did not carry much significance and it is only natural that potential buyers in anticipation of larger offerings, interior points reported a slight weakness. Some of the wheat is every reason to believe that the demand will keep pace with the movement to the coast.

Trade in oats was of moderate proportions. The market was dominated by the action of other grains. Receipts were small, but the demand was steady and the spot trading basis unchanged to a slight degree. It is to be expected that the market will reflect any strength in other directions.

Winnipeg, Nov. 4.—Although prices were fractionally higher in the local market, trading was active throughout and a considerable volume of business was done. The top grades of cash wheat were sold at 104.50 over No. 1, and the lower grades, "shorts" were sold at 103.50. The market was very active, and a high price for the No. 1 wheat was offered. TO-DAY'S EXCHANGE Wholesale Market

By Burdick Bros. Ltd.

New York, Nov. 4.—The feature of the day's trading in wheat was the switching of holdings from December to May, which resulted in narrowing the difference between the two months to the extent of about one cent. This action apparently influenced by an eager tone in the local spot market where premiums on red wheat were further reduced. The season's crop in the West has not been placed and that also considerable additional business had been done. Outside cash markets the past few days have not been very active. The local market did not carry much significance and it is only natural that potential buyers in anticipation of larger offerings, interior points reported a slight weakness. Some of the wheat is every reason to believe that the demand will keep pace with the movement to the coast.

Trade in oats was of moderate proportions. The market was dominated by the action of other grains. Receipts were small, but the demand was steady and the spot trading basis unchanged to a slight degree. It is to be expected that the market will reflect any strength in other directions.

Winnipeg, Nov. 4.—Although prices were fractionally higher in the local market, trading was active throughout and a considerable volume of business was done. The top grades of cash wheat were sold at 104.50 over No. 1, and the lower grades, "shorts" were sold at 103.50. The market was very active, and a high price for the No. 1 wheat was offered. GENERAL MEETING OF MOTOR CLUB

Victoria Automobile Club Meeting Tuesday Evening

Gasoline Tax and Other Important Matters Pending

A general meeting of the Victoria Automobile Club will be held Tuesday evening next in 412 Pemberton Building at 8 o'clock, at which important subjects relating to gasoline tax motor licenses and automobile insurance will be discussed and for that reason every member of the club is asked to make it a point to attend.

The club has had its special committee working for some time on the question of gasoline tax and the relative question of motor licenses and a great deal of valuable data has been secured from various sources in Canada as well as in the United States relating to these subjects. This has been boiled down and a comprehensive report which will be submitted to the meeting and a vote will be taken on the recommendations which will be submitted to the meeting.

Another committee will report on the proposals of the North Western Mutual Fire Insurance Company, which undertakes to carry the club members' motor insurance on a mutual basis. The Vancouver Automobile Club, Secretary R. Webb reports, has netted a saving by this means of anywhere from twenty-five to thirty per cent on their premiums.

The opinion of the club members has been asked for the spotlight regulations and the club is anxious to get the views of the membership on this question also. In view of the fact that there is so much of importance to be dealt with at Tuesday's meeting, it is felt that every member should attend.

FARMERS' INTEREST IN ROAD MATTERS

Institutes' Advisory Board Advocates Economy

That there should be no additional appropriations for roads in the Province at the present time but that present funds available should be more economically and usefully applied, was the question expressed by the Advisory Board of the Farmers' Institutes in session at the Pacific Building this week and at which representatives of the United Farmers were present.

Some of the farmer leaders pointed out that if further appropriations for roads were made at present it would mean that further taxation would be necessary to meet the cost. The money had to come from somewhere, and taxation was the only way in which it could be raised.

There was no criticism of the Government in respect to the matter but it was felt that the money should be made to go as far as possible in the upkeep of roads.

It was felt that there was room for some reorganization of the present system for the maintenance and repairing of roads and it was also agreed that the roads should be regularly patrolled.

The practice of motorists carrying guns was referred to by the meeting and it was pointed out that the law should be strictly enforced in regard to this matter.

Another matter dealt with was that relating to the stopping by game wardens of motorists travelling at night and it was felt that game wardens should be furnished with a specially colored flashlight for use in stopping cars, with a penalty for anyone else using such equipment. In order to remove any danger to motorists who might be held up by fake wardens or hold-up men.

The farmers are vitally interested in the road question and hereafter the organization will take a more prominent part in the deliberations on these questions for the purpose of submitting the farmers' views to the Government.

KNOCKS

The knock produced by a loose piston pin is considerably lighter than a crank shaft knock, and is most noticeable when the engine is running idle with the throttle nearly closed. The only remedy for the knock is to repair the pin or bushing, or both. The knock, however, does not indicate so dangerous a condition as a crank shaft or connecting rod knock.

"STAR'S" ZENITH IN MOTORDOM

Atkinson Motor Could Not Hold First Arrival

"We simply couldn't hang onto it. We were so besieged that we had to let it go and before the car left the floor we had sold five of them," was the way "Dave" Atkinson greeted The Times man to-day when he called at the garage of the Atkinson Motor Company at the corner of Vancouver and Collinson Streets to see what the Star passenger car, the latest arrival on the local market, looked like.

"I don't know if I can even show you a picture of it because we have had such a run on Star car literature that we have nothing left. We couldn't even hang onto that," continued Mr. Atkinson when urged to show the visitor something that would convey an impression of the new arrival's appearance.

"The Star car has reached the zenith of motor perfection, comfort and convenience," continued Mr. Atkinson, who proceeded to dilate on the various features of the car that has created such widespread interest in every city in Canada and the United States.

Sales Manager Lovell is wearing a happy smile in consequence of the ready sale of Star cars, the details of which has been given to the Atkinson Motor Company. He was not at the garage when the garage was visited but according to reports he is the busiest man in town trying to find out how he is going to accommodate all the people who are looking for him to inquire as to their chances of getting delivery of one of the new favorites.

CARE OF SPRINGS

To add to the life of the springs and afford additional riding comfort, lubricate the leaf between the spring leaves. If no leaf wedge or spreader is at hand a screwdriver can be used by driving it between the leaves at a point near the end of each lower leaf. Use a thin oil into which has been mixed a small amount of graphite, squirting between the leaves with a hand oiler, allowing the oil to drain toward the centre of the leaf, removing screwdriver.

POWER PUMP TIP

In using the power tire pump if the rear wheel is jacked up but not firmly held by the brake the wheel will spin and twist off the air tube. Better let the wheel down on the ground before starting to pump up the tire. Also moderate engine speed gives better results at high speed.

A light British two-passenger automobile has a body that is propelled with blades fitted to its rear wheels.

APPALLING RECORD OF CARELESS DRIVING

12,500 persons were killed and 300,000 persons were injured in automobile accidents in the United States during the year 1921, and yet this appalling total seems likely to be exceeded in 1922.

In spite of the most extensive educational campaign against railroad highway crossing accidents ever carried on, figures just compiled by the Insurance Department of the Pennsylvania Railroad System show that in June, July and August, of this year, such casualties increased 30 per cent, as compared with last season.

The period covered embraces the first three months of the National Careful Crossing Campaign, in which railroads of the United States have joined in efforts to make plain the deplorable results of carelessness. During the three months, on the Pennsylvania System alone, there were 107 crossing accidents, in which 71 persons were killed and 115 injured.

That this year's large increase in these casualties is chargeable almost entirely to growth in the reckless and inexperienced driving of automobiles is shown by the fact that casualties at highway crossings from all other causes combined decreased.

There were 85 automobile accidents at Pennsylvania Railroad crossings in the three months in question. They caused the death of 56 persons, and injury to 167 others, or an average of two personal casualties for each accident. Twelve of the accidents resulted in 39 deaths; four caused the death of 20 persons, or an average of five for each car involved.

In two of the accidents, entire families were wiped out. That these lives were sacrificed to pure recklessness is particularly emphasized by the fact that in both instances the drivers of the cars lived close to the scenes of the accidents and were entirely familiar with the lay-out of the railroad tracks and roads over which they were driving.

The responsibility of automobile drivers for the safety of riders in their cars is no less than that of locomotive engineers for the safety of their train passengers. It is, therefore, impressive to note that against the lives lost in only three months by careless driving of motor cars over tracks, there were no passenger deaths in train accidents anywhere on the Pennsylvania Railroad System during the entire year ended May 31st, last. In that period no less than 1,400,000 passenger trains were operated and 152,000,000 passengers carried safely.

The chief reason for this striking contrast is that locomotive engineers are thoroughly trained in every detail of their work, and are required to demonstrate knowledge and ability to operate trains safely before being entrusted with their handling.

On the other hand, analysis of the causes of crossing accidents shows that the vast majority of motor car casualties at railroad highway crossings are attributable to a comparatively small percentage of inexperienced and irresponsible automobile drivers who have neither the knowledge, training or judgment required for the safe operation of such machines. The result is often failure to exercise even the most ordinary precautions necessary for the protection of life when approaching or driving over railroad tracks.

Moreover, reckless driving of automobiles is not confined to highway crossings. This is shown by the daily reports in the newspapers of accidents caused by driving automobiles into telegraph poles, or stone walls and by skidding, sideswiping, turning over and colliding. From this running chronicle of death and injury, the conclusion would seem warranted that what is needed at the present time is not merely a Careful Crossing Campaign to concentrate attention on crossing accidents alone, but a national campaign carefully planned and directed against all forms of careless automobile driving.

AUTOMOBILE MAKERS BACK NEW PROCESS TO PRODUCE MOTOR FUEL

$6,000,000 Company Building Large Montreal Refinery

Ground has been broken for one of the largest and most up-to-date oil refineries on the continent in Montreal. This is being financed by prominent Canadians associated with a group of Detroit automobile manufacturers headed by Benjamin Briscoe, who, since selling his Briscoe Motor Corporation interests which he did in 1917, is one of the principal stockholders in the Gray and Durant Motor Companies and president of the Briscoe & Stahl Engineering Company, the designers of the Gray and other automobiles.

These automobile experts with a group of prominent Canadians have formed the Red Star Refineries, Limited, with a paid-up capital of $6,000,000, and control the damage process for the refining of petroleum.

The Red Star Refinery now under construction is on the St. Lawrence River on deep water where the company's tankers, will bring the crude oil from Mexico and the Gulf Ports. When finished, this refinery will have a capacity of 10,000 barrels of "super gas" per day.

It is the purpose of the Red Star Refineries, Limited, to erect three additional refineries in Canada at advantageous distributing points from Halifax to Vancouver.

CLOSED CAR IS GAINING FAVOR

Coupe and Sedan No Longer Considered Model For Luxury Only

Until recently closed car comfort has been considered a luxury. The man or woman who was more anxious for distinction than the ordinary things of life, selected the closed car. In fact there was a time, long before the automobile made its appearance, when people rode in carriages, or coaches, or in the original sedan which was propelled by two-man power, the closed car was looked upon more or less in ridicule. Only the weakling, or women, would use such vehicles.

Manufacturers of automobiles carried some of these ideas over, when they commenced to make closed cars. They were more anxious to build a car that would carry distinction, or class, than one that would meet the needs of the people. At first it was hard to get people of ordinary means to select such a car, distinctly not a luxury car. Production figures show that this type of car is increased 35 per cent. in 1922 over that of the previous year. Sedans and coupes are in great demand because they will stand up under hard driving and pounding on bad roads just as sturdily as the open car—and at the same time offer closed car protection and comfort.

Your Engine Full of Pep

What is nicer than to have your motor running like the day you bought it. By having your cylinders reground we are able to make your engine even better than when it left the factory.

Regrounding removes scores and high spots, giving your engine the maximum of power. Come in and let us show you our large plant for regrounding cylinders—it will amaze you.

When having your car overhauled include having your cylinders reground—the cost is but very small.

NEWS AND NOTES OF THE MINES

Prince George Leader. M. S. Kendall, the owner of a mile of channel placer leases on the Goat River, was a visitor to Prince George recently, says The Leader. Mr. Kendall is enthusiastic over his property, and showed The Leader some nuggets large enough to make us want to quit the newspaper business and go hunt a real gold mine, and he had quite a handful of smaller samples. Work so far has been mostly in the nature of prospecting, and will be continued all winter, and it is the owner's intention to make the property a hydraulic proposition. The economical of operation is a bench lease and there is plenty of water available in both the East and West forks of Boulder Creek. The property is reached by means of a seven-mile pack trail from Kendall's Landing, two miles east of Rooney.

Dunwell Mines. The outside work on the Dunwell is finished, and everything is in shape for the winter, says The Portland Canal News. Substantial new buildings have been erected in addition to the old original Stewart M. & D. Co. camp, giving ample accommodation to the crew of eight men now employed. J. J. Thomson is foreman on the property. The new tunnel site has been excavated and faced up, and a blacksmith shop erected, in preparation for the driving of this tunnel, which will be started when the upper one is completed. Le Roi No. 2. A report is current at Roseland, says The Nelson News and in Spokane that the negotiations in connection with the sale of the Le Roi No. 2 mine and Cliff group have been consummated. D. Lay, manager for some time of the London company operating the "Josie," confirms the report that the option has been granted to the syndicate of Spokane men headed by Messrs. Tate and Daly and New York associates, this action having been taken by the directors of the Josie company at a meeting in London, October 12.

The Cliff group of claims is in close proximity to the Josie, and it is stated in Spokane that a tunnel will be driven at once to connect the properties. It is understood that the Josie will be reopened almost immediately and operated on a large scale, requiring the services of several hundred miners.

While not confirmed from any official source, it is asserted in Spokane that the price paid for the Josie and Cliff group is $1,500,000.

Le Roi No. 2. A report is current at Roseland, says The Nelson News and in Spokane that the negotiations in connection with the sale of the Le Roi No. 2 mine and Cliff group have been consummated. D. Lay, manager for some time of the London company operating the "Josie," confirms the report that the option has been granted to the syndicate of Spokane men headed by Messrs. Tate and Daly and New York associates, this action having been taken by the directors of the Josie company at a meeting in London, October 12.

The Cliff group of claims is in close proximity to the Josie, and it is stated in Spokane that a tunnel will be driven at once to connect the properties. It is understood that the Josie will be reopened almost immediately and operated on a large scale, requiring the services of several hundred miners.

While not confirmed from any official source, it is asserted in Spokane that the price paid for the Josie and Cliff group is $1,500,000.

CLEAN RADIATOR CELLS

Mud and dirt that have become hardened in the cells of the radiator should never be removed with wire or a tool. The thin cell walls are easily punctured and small leaks in the radiator invariably result. Use water directed from a hose to clear the passages, with the stream guided from the engine.

SCOUTS REPORT PROGRESS IN CURRENT YEAR

PERHAPS the three outstanding features of the Boy Scout Association in the year past, as reported at the annual convention this week, were the clearing off of the debt and establishment of a slight credit balance in favor of the local funds; the able assistance rendered by the Troop and Pack Parents' Committees; and the serious loss to the Association of Scout officers who were forced during the depression of recent years to seek employment elsewhere than in this city.

The elimination of the debt, reported District Commissioner G. H. Scarrett, was a milestone in the history of the local Association for which credit could be given to the untiring energy of Scout leaders and supporters and to the cheerful willingness of the Troop and Pack members themselves. There are now eleven Scout Troops and ten Wolf Cub Packs in the city, reported the District Commissioner, with a total in the neighborhood of some 450 boys. Three District troops are also noted, being those at Sidney, Metcosh and Langford.

The work of the Parent Committees came in for high praise; it being classed as a measure of support that made the work of the trained Scout leaders possible. The various troops and Packs of the city are supported by their own Parent Committees, it was pointed out, which made for great progress on the part of the several units. By encouraging the parents to take an active interest in the work the movement had gone forward with a steady progress that was before impossible, it was stated.

The loss of Scout Officers through their forced departure was a serious problem, it was held, and one which at all times made the work of expanding the movement greater. During the war the loss of Scout officers had been so keenly felt that the work of the local association suffered.

With the return of scouts from the front the movement experienced a revival of interest, but with the advent of the post-war depression officers began to drift away, and it became hard to find the right men to take their places. This condition still pertained, it was stated, though in a less measure. An urgent call for leaders was put forward, to take care of the units that were waiting to be formed as soon as the right man could be found to take an active, personal interest in the work.

Three scout officers of Victoria attended the Gillingham Park course at Vancouver under Rodney Wood, it was stated; these being S.M. Leslie Sykes, S.M. Cecil Frampton and S.M. A. MacArthur. Mr. Sykes, the only "Wood" badge man in Canada, is leaving for the Old Country man in two weeks' time. Mr. Sykes has been Scout Master of the St. Mary's troop for some time past, and his absence will be much felt, it was stated.

A feature of the report of the District Commissioner dealt with the doing of "good turns" by Scouts. The local units aided the authorities in the recent Fire Prevention Week, and in many other movements; doing a number of miscellaneous services with a readiness to service that drew high praise.

The growth of the movement in this Province was dealt with in a brief address by J. C. Anthony, Provincial Secretary, in which he explained the position of Scouting in this Province, and the success of the movement in the year just completed.

Though figures for the Troops and Packs in the Province and like statistics are not yet to hand it is expected that the Province will show a substantial increase in the number of Troops and Packs. The annual meeting was well attended, H. A. Davis, President of the local association, taking the chair.

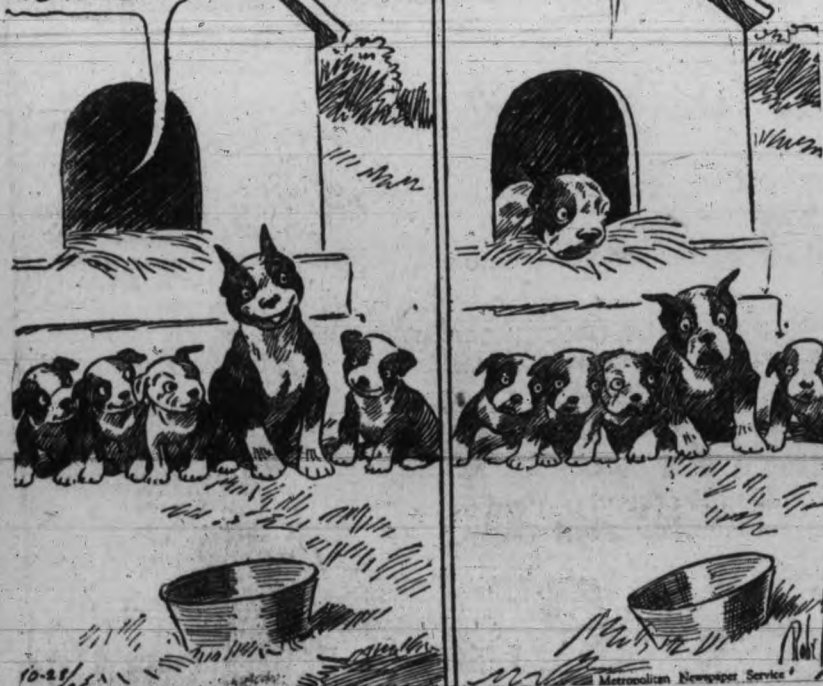

PLAN FAR NORTH FLIGHT

In attempting the flight across the North Pole from Point Barrow to North Cape, Norway, the Norwegian explorer Amundsen will make the first extended flight within the limits of the Arctic circle. The distance is in the neighborhood of 8000 miles over ice fields that afford little accessible landing places.

BUDDY AND HIS FRIENDS

OH, BY THE WAY, BUDDIE, MRS. ANGUS ABERDEEN CALLED TO-DAY. SHE SAID SHE HAD NEVER SEEN SUCH A HANDSOME FAMILY OF PUPPIES; THAT WE SHOULD BE VERY PROUD INDEED OF SUCH A DEAR LITTLE FAMILY. BUT, SHE SAID, YOU COULD NOT HAVE EVERYTHING IN THIS WORLD, AS HER HUSBAND PUT IT, HE HAD NEVER KNOWN A BOSTON TERRIER TO HAVE

flown over for a morning call. "I never knew any one to keep such a clean house as you do. I have never seen her home, but I do know that Mr. and Mrs. Dove are very loving and that he is just crazy about her."

"Yes, I know he is," said Jenny, "though what he can see to admire about her is more than I can see. She is flabby, acts as if she had no backbone at all, and is so slack."

"She has pretty features, my dear," ventured Mr. Wren, "and she is very refined in her manner and gentle."

"Gentle!" repeated Jenny Wren, hopping about in front of her door. "She is too gentle! Look at her nest! A few loose sticks and a lining and no sides to it. How her two babies stay in such a nest is more than I can tell."

"And what do you think of a feather to their backs. Their mother is that shiftless all she can do is make a nest and look gentle and refined. A pretty home you would have, Mr. Wren."

"If I was like Mrs. Turtle Dove, But you seem to admire such spineless creatures."

"Oh, no, I don't," protested Mr. Wren, "I said she is gentle and has pretty features, but I do not want my trim looking little wife to be like her; and you know, my dear, that I think no one dresses in such good taste as my wife."

"You are the best little housekeeper in the land, and I am as proud as I can be of your nest full of eggs every year."

Jenny Wren twisted her head from side to side and bobbed her tail as her husband praised her, and Mrs. Robin on the limb below knew they had forgotten she was there, so she flew off home.

As Mr. Wren saw her on the wing he said to his wife, "I wonder you dared speak about untidy nests with Mrs. Robin about, you know she is not a very good housekeeper."

"I know she isn't," replied Jenny Wren. "I thought I would let her know what I think of such poor housekeeping."

Wren, with a flirt of her tail, "such a house as about it."

"I do believe those silly Turtle Doves have come somewhere around here to live," said Jenny to her husband, who was as usual close by. "I do hope they haven't, for I would hate to have the shiftless Mrs. Dove for a neighbor. She is such a poor housekeeper."

"I do not think you need to worry, Jenny," said Mr. Wren. "Turtle Doves make their homes in an out-of-the-way corner of the farm on the evergreen trees near the edge of the woods. You know they like foliage to shelter them."

"I should think they would," answered Mrs. Wren, with a flirt of her tail, "such a house as about it."

10-20
I do not think you need to worry, Jenny, said Mr. Wren.

Mrs. Dove keeps makes me shudder to think about it."

"All housekeepers are not as tidy as you, Jenny," said her husband.

"No, that is right," said Mrs. Robin, who had

Now when the earth crosses the track of the meteor train we speak of, on November 13 every year; it may be that even if the train is not at hand we may see some stragglers; for the meteors are spread out along their path around the sun. If these come into the layer of air around our planet they burn up, and we see them as shooting stars.

Every 33 years we see the wonderful spectacle of the meteor train itself, when myriads of little bodies are burned up in the resistance encountered in their rush through our air. The next display of these is expected on November 13, 1923, and every year on this date we see a great many shooting stars, so do not fail to watch.

On November 13 the shooting stars seem to come from the constellation of Leo, and are called Leonids; while on November 27 some are seen from the constellation of Andromeda, known as Andromedids. Other trains of meteors there are, some seen in August, and it is suspected that there may be a great many heavenly trains running around the sun in this manner which never come within the atmosphere of the Earth, and so we see them not.

From this it will be seen that the atmosphere of this planet is its shield from the bombardment of meteors and other small bodies which, if allowed to reach the surface of the Earth, would quickly kill all living creatures.

From this terrible barrage of heavenly bullets the air saves us, and once in a long way when a meteor larger than usual slips through our safeguard and lands with a hiss on the crust of the Earth we are able to realize how great is this protection.

The larger meteors sometimes are of such a size that they manage to travel the thickness of the layer of air around the earth before being consumed, and in these particles we are able to trace iron and other metals, composed of the common elements known on this planet.

Do not fail to watch for the shooting stars on November 13, and again on November 27, and remember that each shooting star you see is on the point of being burned up, after having travelled for maybe millions of years around the sun.

WIRELESS IMPROVING
The tracing of disabled ships at sea by means of the wireless they carry is one of the developments possible by the improved features of the directional wireless gear. From the sound emitted by signals now it is possible to determine the exact point from which the signals emanate.

Brigade Boys Hear Of Modern Liner

THE construction of a modern passenger liner, such as ply on the Atlantic Ocean between Canada and Great Britain, was the subject of an interesting lantern lecture given by P. A. Raynor to the local division of the Boys' Naval Brigade at the Menzies Street headquarters on Thursday evening last. The lecture was illustrated by an excellent series of lantern slides which brought home in vivid detail the many arrangements necessary on board ship to take care of the manifold services of these floating hotels.

On Sunday the local division will unite with the naval forces at Esquimaux in a joint church parade to St. Paul's Military and Naval Church. The band of the Brigade will lead the church parade on the line of march. Over 50 boys are now enrolled in the Victoria unit, many intending to study for careers at sea.

Though there have been no recent postings to ships, there are fifteen boys fully trained in their calling. Many of these will ship as cadets and the remainder as able seamen.

When the present waiting list has been exhausted the Victoria unit of the Brigade will have placed over 100 boys on ships of British register, many of these sailing under the Canadian flag.

Many of the boys now with the brigade will not seek their career at sea, but are taking the training for the love of the work itself. It is a mainly training with excellent companionship, and the boys who have trained with the local units have done well in their chosen calling.

The brigade is now entering upon a series of gymnasium classes with the ultimate object of giving a display before the public.

A special set of equipment has been fitted up in one of the rooms of the former Drill Hall on Menzies Street, which is now the headquarters of the Brigade. The permission to use the Menzies Street Hall has been a great factor in the indoor training of the boys, providing a facility that was previously as urgently needed as it is unavailable.

With the advent of wet weather the Brigade is turning to lectures on seamanship and other indoor work for the long winter nights that will soon be on hand.

Arrangements are now under way for the boys to be shown over the British cruiser H.M.S. Capetown, and the Canadian destroyer H.M.C.S. Patrician, in Esquimaux Harbor. The unit is looking forward eagerly to the inspection of the naval craft. The Victoria division is at present under the command of Sub-Lt. P. W. Tribe, in the absence of Lt. W. N. Hotham. Assisted by Chief Petty Officer Curzon, Mr. Tribe is carrying on in the interim.

Under Lt. Hotham and his capable assistants the Brigade has given to great proportions and achieved a standing in the lists of Canadian Naval Brigades that it intends to guard jealously in the future.

The annual field day of the Victoria and District Boy Scouts and Wolf Cub packs will be held on Monday, when some 450 members of the local association will engage in scouting exercises at Mount Tolmie. Eleven city troops and ten cub packs, in addition to three district units, will take part in the field day.

The Scouts and Cubs will be divided into scouts and defenders, the one side to win through the ranks of the opposing forces with messages, and the other to stop this communication. The field day is a matter of great interest in the local association, and many excellent achievements of scouting work are accomplished annually.

The devices which some of the Scouts utilize to win through the opposing lines and the cleverness with which they are at times detected would form an interesting book in itself. Points are to be awarded for messages carried through in safety, and points lost for captures made of the scouting couriers.

THE EXTINCTION OF A LESSER STAR

BERTHA was slight of stature and plump. Bertha had blue eyes which closed when that lady was laid to sleep, and opened miraculously when she was taken up again. Bertha, in fact, was a large doll, made in the old-fashioned days when things were made to last, and was the pride of Mary's heart. Mary was given Bertha by Santa Claus one Christmas, when Mary was hardly any larger than the doll she hugged and kissed.

When new, Bertha was an impressive creature which would say "Mama" and "Papa" indiscriminately when hugged; but time had been unkind to her, and now Bertha often said "Mama" when her eyes were closed and wouldn't say anything when she was supposed to be awake. It was all very perplexing, but Mary made the best of it, and would often tell her parents that Bertha talked in her sleep. Parties, teas and picnics were held for Bertha by her tireless little hostess, and in doll land Bertha was the best dressed doll in town.

It was while a dressing bee was proceeding that Mary one day fell asleep with Bertha in her arms. Bertha had just been inserted in a brand new dress of gingham, which Mary had made with her own hands and "out of her head." The starch folds of the new dress looked severely prim, but the effect was to heighten the dignity of the unperturbed Bertha, and make her very impressive. Mary talked to and hugged the doll until it emitted such a series of "Papas" and "Mamas" that she was sure it was talking in its sleep. Ensnored comfortably on a pile of cushions on the floor Mary drowsed.

Presently she roused herself and rubbed her eyes. Her glance fell on Bertha, and she rubbed her eyes again—for Bertha was walking slowly up and down the floor trying to look at the back of her new gingham dress. Mary sat bolt upright in astonishment. There could be no mistake—Bertha was walking and talking just as if she were alive.

"I'll have to have this altered—it is too full in the back," Mary heard her dollie say.

"Bertha, what are you doing? How did you come to life?" gasped the astonished little girl.

"Don't Bertha me, young lady. I am Miss Genevieve Bertha Brabazon, a star in my own right."

"But, Bertha—began Mary, to be cut short with an impatient stamp of the dollie foot and a toss of the head.

"I told you not to call me 'Bertha,'" was the retort.

"Well, Miss Braba—what did you say it was?" floundered Mary.

"Miss Genevieve Bertha Brabazon, now playing the lead in the Cox production. When 'Kewpies Were in Power'—You may call me 'Miss Bertha' if you wish." This was said with such an air of pride that poor Mary wilted entirely.

"You see the trouble with you, Mary," continued the doll, "is that you have been treating me as a doll, and I am not. Look at this dress. How would I look if I appeared in Paris in this sort of evening dress?"

"It is the best I could do, Berth—I mean Miss Bertha," replied Mary, sorrowfully—and there was silence. The doll strutted up and down the floor, making the most conceited gestures, and apparently highly annoyed because Mary did not applaud her vanity.

Not for nothing was Mary brought up a Canadian—the light of battle already showed in her eyes, while the color mounted to her cheeks. She glared at Bertha, who now strutted up and down the floor, making the most conceited gestures, and apparently highly annoyed because Mary did not applaud her vanity.

She glared at Bertha, who now strutted up and down the floor, making the most conceited gestures, and apparently highly annoyed because Mary did not applaud her vanity.

"You bad, wicked doll—you are telling untruths. You are not 'Miss Genevieve' anything—you are plain, common Bertha, and my doll—so there!" This declaration of authority seemed to take the vanity out of the doll, which whimpered and finally collapsed. Mary looked again, and in her arms lay Bertha, just plain doll. Its eyes were shut tightly, and as it was moved from side to side it lisped "Mama" and "Papa" with cheerful impartiality.

"Why Mary! You have slept nearly all afternoon, child. Come now, supper is ready." Rising confused at the words of her mother Mary rubbed her eyes. So it had all been a dream. At supper Mary told the family of the wonderful dream, and recited the airs and graces of "Miss Genevieve Bertha Brabazon, star of 'When Kewpies Were in Power.'" The family laughed heartily, and to this day Bertha is known as the "Kewpie Star."

Vancouver Island Boys' Work Groups In Convention

SOME fifty delegates to the Vancouver Island Convention of Boys' Work Committees, which opened at Duncan last evening, left the city by trolley yesterday. The delegates included representatives from the local church organizations, the Y.M.C.A. Boys' Work Department, and the various Juvenile Welfare Groups of the city and district.

An extensive programme of work has been prepared for the consideration of the convention, which deals with the centralization of Boys' Work under one main head, so that there is not overlapping in endeavor. The Rev. Dr. P. R. Hayward of Toronto will take the coast for the opening of the sittings on this island. Dr. Hayward is a noted Boys' Work enthusiast in the East and has been lecturing in many of the important centres en route to the coast.

The sessions of the conference which opened with formal welcomes last night will last until Sunday. This is the first year for several past that the joint convention of the Vancouver Island and Boys' Work groups has been held. Much good is looked for from the counsels of the delegates present from all points on the island. Duncan was chosen as the convention seat, being central to the majority of the communities affected.

Y.M.C.A. BOYS ENTERTAIN

An excellent supper and concert was staged by the Preparatory groups of the Y.M.C.A. Boys' Work Division on Saturday, when 70 sat down to enjoy a carefully prepared and attractive programme. The proceedings were under the guidance of Delmar Battrick, Assistant Boys' Work Secretary of the Y.M.C.A. Community singing and "stunts" were features of the entertainment, which resulted in a right merry evening.

HOW TO MAKE A BUCKING BRONCHO

The bucking broncho shown above will be a great delight to small children. The task of making him, while not difficult, will be a nice test of workmanship. Use soft wood.

To make the body, legs and tail of the horse, lay out half-inch squares and draw in the outlines, as shown above, being careful to cut the pieces exactly on the lines.

Parts B, C, D, and E should be cut with great care. On all these pieces bore the holes before finishing to shape; otherwise the piece will likely split. Part B is the crank-shaft. Part C, a circular piece to which the broncho is attached by wire, should have a hole bored for a snug fit on the shaft D, and a small hole for the screw. Part D is merely a rod 2 1/4 inches long and about 1/2 inch in diameter cut to fit the holes in B and C. Part E is the piece which holds the mechanism in place.

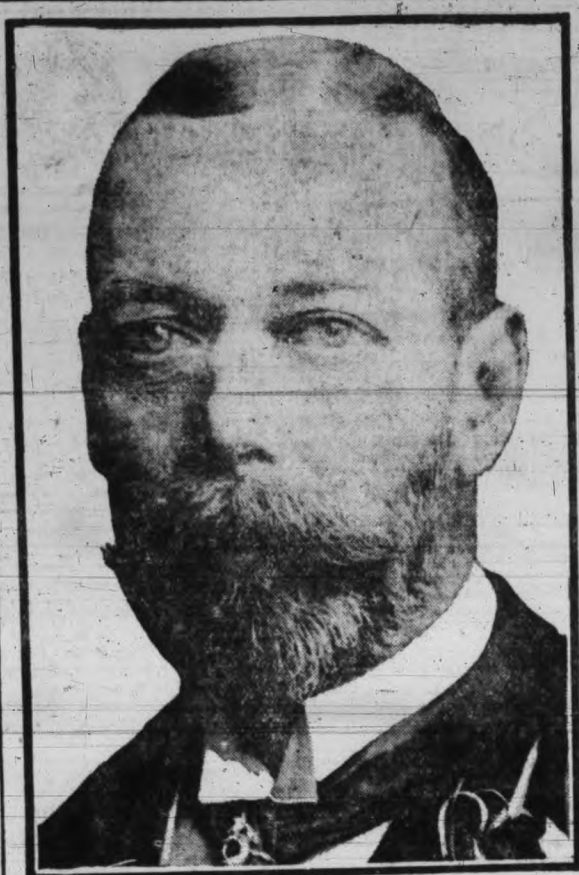

Sandpaper all the parts thoroughly before assembling. The platform may be held to the posts with brads or roundhead screws, as desired. Fasten A to the platform with small roundhead screws from the top, or brads or flathead screws from the bottom. Fasten E to the platform by roundhead screws, through the top. Part C can be made to fit on D without the use of a brad. Part B is held to D by means of a brad. It would be well to use a washer between B and E, and between C and E.

Fasten the legs of the horse to the body with screws, allowing free movement. The tail is held in place with a brad. Fasten the front legs to E with a brad, providing a free movement. A piece of wire passes from the neck of the horse through the slot in the platform to the screw in C. Place small brads in front of the hind legs to prevent them dropping too low when kicking. Paint the toy as fancy as you please.

BURR LL, INCOGNITO, TELLS ABOUT HIMSELF

It Was a Disparaging Account of His Oratory He Gave to the Oldest Inhabitant.

HON. MARTIN BURRELL used to do a bit of campaigning in western Ontario when he was minister of agriculture. One day two elections ago he arrived in Paisley to address a meeting in the interests of "Jim" (now Senator) Donnelly. There was no one at the station to meet him, and the minister wandered down to the only hotel. There, the dinner hour being past, he modestly asked for "a few biscuits," and was accommodated with a meal. Seated afterward in the public room of the hotel he was engaged in conversation by the oldest inhabitant.

Hon. Martin Burrell.

"Do you know this man Burrell?" asked the ancient. "Yes," said the minister. "Is he much of a speaker?" "Oh, just fair, I believe." "Well, I'd a notion to go and hear him, but I dunno."

The old gentleman meditated a while, then confided to the stranger that he had at home a picture of Sir John A. Macdonald, and wondered if it would be acceptable on the platform at the meeting.

Hon. Mr. Burrell, relieved at a chance to terminate a perilous cross-examination, assured the Paisley burglar that he thought it would, and the old man departed to take "Sir John" to the town hall.

Tears Surged to Eyes As Canadian Girl Sang

The Greatest Tribute Ever Paid to Jeanne Gordon Came From a Little Girl.

JEANNE GORDON, the famous Metropolitan contralto, came home last week and all Kent county paid tribute to her with an ovation that almost shook the Chatham armory from its pedestals. Crimi, the brilliant tenor, who assisted in the performance given by Miss Gordon for Kent charity, had tears in his eyes when the cheering of the vast audience had died away, so moved was he by the spirit of the occasion.

Jeanne Gordon—Ruby Gordon—she will always remain to her countless admirers—will doubtless look upon her latest Chatham reception as one among many. But the greatest tribute ever paid her came unconsciously from the lips of a tiny wee girl, years ago when Miss Gordon little dreamed of the Metropolitan although her voice, coming then from the choir loft, thrilled her listeners even as it does to-day. That tribute is still fresh in the memory of the great star.

The tiny wee girl in question, on leaving the church that Sabbath morning, had been reprimanded by her parents for not replying to the good people who spoke to her afterwards. Still tiny tot's thoughts seemed far away, still dwelling, possibly, on the beautiful singing she had just heard. Finally responding to a vigorous shake of her arm, she perked her smiling face up at her mother and said:

"The angels haven't anything on Rube Gordon—have they?"

HER THRILLING TOP NOTE

MME. TETRAZZINI, now in England, will soon be coming to this continent to thrill us again with her marvelous voice control and her wonderful top notes full of flourishes and thrills, slightly different to another prima donna her friends describe.

This singer did not reach her top note with Tetrazzini facility, but by laborious degrees. When she got there, she repeated this top note eight or nine times, loudly and shrilly, to impress all and sundry that she really was there, and there was no mistake about it.

One evening, after she had struggled up and was shrieking her triumph, a member of the audience looked anxious.

"She's got up there," he exclaimed to his companion, "and now she can't get down again!" Raising his voice he shouted out to the singer: "Jump!"

MOTHERWELL'S NICKNAME

HON. W. R. MOTHERWELL, now Federal Minister of Agriculture, gained his nickname of "Moisture Bill" in the 1912 Saskatchewan provincial election campaign. Kindersley, the county town, was his headquarters, and the roads were mostly trails. W. R. got about the riding in a motor vehicle, commonly called a "manure spreader." It was observed by the townspeople that almost every time he left or returned to the town, it rained, and since that campaign he has been known as "Moisture Bill."

A Lieutenant-Governor Who Handles a Trowel

Hon. Harry Cockshutt Had Not His Union Card, But He Had the Professional Touch.

COL. the Hon. Harry Cockshutt, lieutenant-governor of Ontario, is still claimed by Brantford as a citizen of the telephone city and the home paper publishes reports of all the functions in which he participates. Only recently he accepted the post of commanding officer of one of the reserve battalions of the Dufferin Rifles of that city.

Hon. Harry Cockshutt.

They started construction of a new school the other day on Terrace Hill, to be named in honor of the late Alexander Graham Bell, inventor of the telephone. Col. Cockshutt accepted an invitation to lay the cornerstone. As his honor took the trowel, those near the stone assert, he leaned forward to a workman on the other side and said:

"Say, Fred, I haven't got my union card." But he flourished the trowel with such skill that the remark went around among the practical masons, "That's not the first time he has spread mortar."

Lloyd George May Captivate the Masses, but In the Inner Circle Bonar Law is Most Popular

Bonar Law Never Prophesies, But He Planned His Career Years Ago, and Reached His Goal at Last—A Tall, Sad, Methodical Man, With an Uncanny Memory for Facts and Figures.

EVEN the political expert of the London Times must squirm now at his prophecy two years ago, regarding Bonar Law. "If and when the Conservative party breaks away from Mr. Lloyd George, it will no longer be under the lead of Mr. Bonar Law," he joyfully pronounced. "And should the prime minister, as so many expect, move to the left in politics, Mr. Bonar Law will still be found at his side, faithful and loyal always."

It only proves what risks a man takes to prophesy. Bonar Law never prophesies. He plans. Nobody quite knows how long he plans before an event. Some people have a suspicion sometimes that it is so long before that it really amounts to prophecy.

Adversity never quite daunted him. He first lifted himself in the world as an ironmaster at Glasgow, and, even yet, there seems to be iron in the quiet, unromantic stubbornness and tenacity of the man.

"When are you going to see the new House of Commons?" asked a friend some time after Law's defeat in the Blackfriars division, Glasgow, in 1906. "Not till I go to take a seat there." He found a seat without delay.

Perhaps it was because he had second plans that he appeared so phlegmatic to another defeated candidate who found him in his room at the Central Hotel. Law, as a lifelong abstainer, was sipping a tumbler of milk. "Oh, Law! who could drink milk on such a night as this!" shouted the amazed man.

"Can't you play at something, Bonar?" asked a young lady cousin one day, at the end of her patience. "Whether it is dancing, tennis, golf or chess. It's the same thing—the same dull, infinite capacity for taking pains." When he wished to learn chess, for example, he hired a professional to coach him at the game.

The death of his wife and two sons struck him to the heart. A widower with six children in 1909, he staggered under the blow. The death of two sons in the war seemed to shrivel all his power of pure enjoyment. Bridge and the opera were pure torture for him.

From his photograph one who had never seen him would think of him as a small, anemic man. As a matter of fact he is very tall and gaunt. An American describes him as "a thin, bloodless sort of man, with a thin, bloodless face." "And his eyes," says Gardner, "are filled with the sadness of incommunicable things. He is as innocent of humor as a dirge, and has never made an epigram." "He is unimaginative, devoid of humor, and entirely uncompromising. He is bitter. He is rude at times. He says a biting thing in a most acid manner. He is formal, precise, wooden and methodical," says another American journalist who watched him for a whole day in action in the House of Commons.

Still no one is his enemy. "Who is the most popular politician among the whole mass of Britain? Undoubtedly Mr. Lloyd George," it is said. "Who is the most popular man in the inner circles of politics? Unquestionably Mr. Bonar Law. Why? Because his unswerving truthfulness and justice are about as absolute as can be found in mortals."

In spite of the prophecy Mr. Law is leader of the Conservative party broken away from Lloyd George, but it was Mr. Lloyd George who suggested that Mr. Law should become premier in his place.

"THE LIGHT THAT FAILED"

THE suggestion is being revived in certain quarters to make the Poet Laureateship an honor with a time-limit, not a whole-life affair, as it is at present, and Mr. Rudyard Kipling's name is put forward. As a writer of stirring poetry, he certainly stands high, but there are arguments against as well as for the idea of changing the Poet Laureate each year, like a lord mayor.

Kipling tells a nice story of a private fancy dress ball he once attended, when each of the guests had to represent some well-known novel. He puzzled a long while over one of the guests who was designed as a patent cigarette lighter, and at last begged her to tell him what she was.

"I represent one of your own books," she replied.

"Which one?" asked Kipling, baffled.

"Why," she said, "The Light That Failed."

"Mother of India" Continues the Work of Gandhi

MME. GANDHI, the wife of the Indian political leader, is known as "the Mother of India." Since her husband's imprisonment for seditious actions and remarks, Mme. Gandhi travels from village to village with members of the non-co-operative group endeavoring to interest the natives in the passive movement of non-co-operation with England's rule.

His Life Seems Empty Without a Daily Bomb

The Most-Criticized Attorney-General in Canada Keeps His Sense of Humor Undimmed.

A SENSE of humor is often a public man's strongest armor against unwarranted criticism—a truth which Hon. W. E. Raney, attorney-general of Ontario, has learned. During his first year or so in office, Mr. Raney took very much to heart every word uttered against himself or his department. Now, however—

It was in the middle of the last session of the legislature, when vigorous denunciations of the O.T.A. enforcement, demands for investigation of the death of Capt. Huston, and divers other offenses were being launched against the attorney-general in the House, that a newspaperman, meeting Mr. Raney in the corridors one morning, inquired as to what was new.

"There's nothing new this morning," the minister replied. "Everything is very quiet. In fact—with a demure twinkle in his eye—"nobody's done anything to me yet to-day."

Hon. W. E. Raney.

MAN WHO MADE A MONK OF THE U.F.O. SECRETARY

Kapuskasing Soldiers' Colony Was on the Mind of R. Reece Hall, and Capuchin Slipped Out.

R. REECE HALL, Liberal M.P.P. for Parry Sound, claims the distinction of having come nearer than any other man to "making a monkey" of J. J. Morrison, secretary of the United Farmers of Ontario.

It was during the first session of the present legislature, as Mr. Hall tells the story. Mr. Hall had the floor, and was delivering himself of references, not altogether complimentary, to Mr. Morrison.

"This man Morrison," he declared, "is the Capuchin of the government."

The house stirred uneasily in its seats as though fearing something over its head was being sprung.

"The what?" gasped Premier Drury.

Then an inspiration struck one of Mr. Hall's desk mates.

"Do you mean, R. Reece Hall, M.P.P. Rasputin?" he suggested.

Mr. Hall realized that he did.

"I had the Kapuskasing soldiers' colony on my mind at the time," he explained, subsequently. "That's how I came to confuse the two words. But, if I didn't make a monkey of Mr. Morrison, at least, I made a monk of him. And even that takes some doing."

A NEW LEASE OF LIFE FOR OXFORD LECTURER

Father Evans, Broken by War Work, Regained His Health as Missionary to the Kootenay Indians.

FATHER EVANS, missionary to the Kootenay Indians at St. Eugene Mission, British Columbia, is one of the interesting figures of the west.

He came to Canada two years ago so broken in health as the result of war work that he did not expect to ever take up active work again.

The mountain air has given him a new lease of life and a few months ago he took charge of the St. Eugene Mission and lives in the open most of the time.

He plans to stay another year in Canada when he will return to his parish at Oxford. He is also one of the lecturers at Oxford University.

During the recent David Thompson memorial pageant Father Evans impersonated Father De Smart, the missionary who traveled through the Windermere and Kootenay districts in 1840.

Harvey Opens the Pudding

HERE is Col. George Harvey, the American ambassador to Great Britain, in a very human mood. All the world loves a good pudding, especially the one that opens the pudding season at the famous old "Cheshire Cheese," in London. The ambassador is about to perform the quaint ceremony of opening the famous pudding which opens the pudding season. See him smiling.

SHOCKS HIGH SOCIETY BY IRREGULAR DRESS

Herbert Hoover Has a Standing Order With a London House for a Blue Suit.

MR. HERBERT HOOVER, secretary of commerce in the United States, is very careless about his dress. He is always turning up at functions in a black suit and tan shoes, or doing something of like nature to shock the susceptibilities of the exciting.

Hoover is interested in doing things, not in dressing up. The man who will live in history for the rescue of the Belgians from starvation during the war usually wears a blue suit. Many people wonder how it is that he sticks to the same color and cloth.

"Years ago," said Hoover recently to a Canadian friend, "I decided that men waste too much time over their clothing. I was in London then, and I went to a London tailor, and got him to make me a suit like the one I am wearing. I have a standing order with that house, and, wherever I may be, I merely send them word that I want more clothes and they forward this same blue suit. That takes the matter off my mind."

Where the Devil Was

THE historian of Southwark Cathedral, England, the Rev. T. P. Stevens, is possessed of a sense of humor which would have delighted Sydney Smith.

One of the treasures of the cathedral is an ancient wooden corbel, once part of the roof, representing the devil in the act of swallowing a sinner.

On one occasion a visiting parson, finding the vestry door open, peered in and, seeing Mr. Stevens, asked—with apologies for the intrusion—where the devil was.

"I'm sorry, I've no idea," replied Mr. Stevens, in a tone of the blindest unconsciousness; "but somebody told me the other day he'd been seen at Brighton!"

A Misunderstanding

LADY BELPER is one of the best all-round sportswomen in England and a fearless and accomplished rider, a fact which adds a certain piquancy to a story I heard her tell recently.

It concerned an amateur regatta in which she was interested. During the preliminary practice of one of the boats it was found that one of the members of the crew had failed to put in an appearance.

After waiting some time the coxswain started out to look for a substitute, and, meeting a likely looking man, he accosted him with: "Are you an oarsman?"

"No," replied the man, "I've never been on an 'orse in me life."
